Jerry C. Rasor In Successful Political Debut

Native Countian Gains Demo Nomination for Congressional Position

JERRY C. RASOR

Jerry C. Rasor of Commercial Point made his political debut a successful one in yesterday's primary election.

The Pickaway County native amassed a total of 9,614 unofficial votes in his quest for the Sixth Congressional District nomination. His closest Democratic competitor was Frank E. Smith with 5,345.

Yesterday's outcome means that Rasor will vie with Republican incumbent William H. Harsha Jr., in the coming November election. Harsha won handily yesterday over Phillip B. Jenkins in the Republican primary. The incumbent received 23,179 votes compared to 1,611 for his opponent.

RASOR carried eight of the nine counties in the Sixth District, including a heavy margin in Pickaway. His tally here was 1,867 votes.

He also gained heavy support in Scioto with 2,214 votes, although Smith carried this county with 2,388. The Commercial Point resident also picked up 1,816 favorable ballots in Pike County and 975 in Ross.

The Sixth Congressional District consists of Pickaway, Pike, Ross, Scioto, Brown, Fayette, Adams, Clarmont and Highland Counties. Other candidates seeking the Republican nomination were James E. Shope Jr., John R. Cutright and Robert C. Armentrout.

Shope tallied 4,026 votes, Cutright 2,155 and Armentrout 930. Harsha carried all nine of the district's counties. His best showing was in his home area of Scioto where he accumulated 6,578 votes.

Pickaway County supported the incumbent Congressman with 1,817 votes. Another good showing was in Ross where he counted 4,246 and in Fayette with 2,641.

DiSalle Plans Aggressive Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle told newsmen today his close win over Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination was "like a plane landing—they're all good as long as you can walk away from them."

And he added, when newsmen asked him how he felt about the close victory: "As long as you win, that's all that counts."

DiSalle promised to wage an aggressive campaign against his Republican opponent in November — State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes, who won the nomination handily over William L. White of Mount Vernon, told newsmen shortly after the polls closed, "I am extremely grateful to the Republican electorate of Ohio for its overwhelming endorsement of my candidacy for the office of governor of our great state. . . I shall strive to merit the confidence and good will of our citizens as I have always done in my public career."

DiSalle said: "I'm going into this campaign to win and I'm going to give the people of Ohio the truth about the issues and also the political facts of life about the Republican candidate for governor. Between now and November, Mr. Rhodes will have to answer a lot of questions."

Affirmative Nod Is Given Westfall School Bond Issue

Westfall School District's new centralized high school is scheduled to become a reality following yesterday's primary election. After two previous unsuccessful bids, the $1,395,000 bond issue was passed by a comfortable margin. The final count unofficially was 944 votes for and 589 against.

The measure carried in all but two of the 12 precincts of the district. Perry East voted 96 negative and 52 affirmative and Perry West was 14-13 in the negative. Lending the biggest assist to the issue was the Williamsport precinct which voted 204 for and 69 against. Another boost came from Darby South on a 105-50 count.

OTHER precinct results were: Circleville Twp., 8-0; Darby

North, 87-48; Deercreek, 110-62; Jackson North, 72-45; Jackson South 71-37; Monroe North 99-70; Monroe South 80-57; Muhlenberg, 43-41.

The bond issue now lays the groundwork for the future erection of a new high school for the purpose of centralizing Williamsport, Atlanta, Jackson, Monroe and Darby Schools.

All four schools faced invocation of charter revocations in 1963 unless the bond issue was passed. An inspection by the State Department of Education late last year indicated that the schools failed to meet minimum state standards.

The State Board of Education later moved that the charters be revoked unless corrective steps be taken.

A campaign was launched several weeks ago by a Citizens Committee of the school district to promote efforts in passing the issue. Appeals were made throughout the district.

IF THE measure had failed, Westfall students faced the possibility of being placed in schools outside the district on a tuition basis.

The Westfall Board of Education already is in the process of negotiating for land for construction of the new building. According to school officials, one proposed site is at Route 56 and the Darbyville-Williamsport Road at Pherson.

In last night's vote counting, the issue moved ahead at the outset and held a slight affirmative edge after about half the precincts had reported in. The margin then grew steadily during the later portion of the counting. A majority affirmative was needed for passage.

Truman Is Touched By Student Visit

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A hint of tears came to Harry Truman's eyes when 71 exchange students from foreign lands trooped in to shake his hand Tuesday.

"It was so kind of you to come and celebrate the birthday of a 78-year-old man who has just about reached the end of the road," said the former president.

Their meeting climaxed the annual birthday party given for Truman by hometown friends. Guests included Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Faulty Electric Chair Delays 2 Executions

RAIFORD, Fla. (AP)—Trouble with Florida's electric chair delayed the scheduled execution of two convicted murderers today.

Warden Dewitt Sinclair postponed the execution of Robert Lee Jefferson and Johnnie Hill until Saturday at 8:30 a.m.

They will be the first to die in the new death house at state prison. Sinclair said when the equipment was given a routine check it didn't function properly.

Ohio Congressmen Campaign For $8 Million Flood Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Ohio members of the House planned to urge today approval of more than $8 million to construct water projects in the state.

The total includes nearly $1 million not requested in President Kennedy's budget for the year beginning July 1.

The four are Reps. Charles A. Mosher, William M. Harsha, John M. Ashbrook, Republicans, and Democrat Charles A. Vanik. All are scheduled to testify before the House Public Works Appropriations Subcommittee.

Mosher said he will ask for approval of $5,695,000 for the Sandusky, Lorain and Huron harbors. The projects and money are already listed in the Kennedy budget.

Harsha said he seeks $250,000 each for pre-construction planning on three projects not budgeted—the Big Darby reservoir in Franklin and Madison counties, the Deer Creek reservoir in Pickaway and Fayette counties and the Paint Creek reservoir in Ross and Highland counties.

Ashbrook planned to ask for $75,000 to start pre-construction planning on the North Branch Kokosing reservoir near Fredericktown and $110,000 for a snagging and clearing project on the Kokosing at Mount Vernon.

Vanik will accompany a Cleveland land group testifying in support of $1,753,000 budgeted for work on the harbor there.

The projects in Ashbrook's 17th District are not included in the budget.

Harsha said the three reservoirs in his 6th District are needed to prevent the recurrence of floods—like the one at Chillicothe three years ago that caused evacuation of 9,000 persons and estimated damage of $2.8 million.

Total estimated costs of the three projects in the Scioto River basin are $24.5 million for the Big Darby, $15.8 million for the Deer Creek and $19.8 million for the Paint Creek.

Mosher supports budget allocations of $3.3 million for Lorain Harbor construction and $1.8 for Sandusky Harbor. Both harbors would be deepened to handle deep-draft ships.

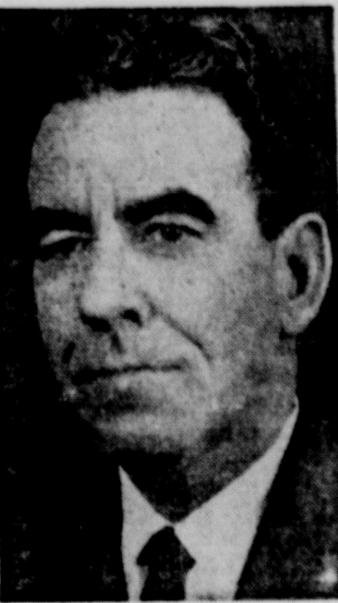

In addition, Mosher backs budgeted items of $148,000 for operation and maintenance at Lorain Harbor, $115,000 for operation and maintenance at Sandusky, and $200,000 for major rehabilitation at Sandusky.

Mosher's testimony also included support of a $72,000 item for operation and maintenance of Huron Harbor and $60,000 for a Lake Erie coast survey of small boat harbors of refuge.

Judge Radcliff Is Unseated in Appellate Race

Marshall Carlisle Of Jackson Victor In Fourth District

MARSHALL M. CARLISLE

Judge William D. Radcliff's bid for re-election to the Fourth District Court of Appeals was halted in yesterday's primary by Marshall M. Carlisle of Jackson.

Judge Radcliff, a Williamsport native and current Circleville resident, had been listed as a favorite in local electoral circles. However, the 22,459 votes pulled in by Carlisle were too much to overcome.

The local judicial veteran polled 18,871 votes following today's final but unofficial count. The race remained close during the early morning tabulations and until the last of the district's 15 counties reported results.

Pickaway was one of four counties casting marginal votes for Judge Radcliff, his count here being 1,914-252. Other counties showing majorities for him were Hocking, Gallia and Washington.

JUDGE CARLISLE was given his heaviest support in Scioto County where he forged ahead with 4,048 votes. Radcliff received 2,213.

Carlisle also ran as a heavy favorite in his home county of Jackson where 2,253 gave him affirmative nods. Radcliff's showing there was 1,587.

Another heavy voting county was Lawrence where 2,908 ballots were cast for Carlisle and 2,892 for Radcliff.

Counties comprising the Fourth District are Pickaway, Adams, Athens, Gallia, Brown, Highland, Hocking, Lawrence, Jackson, Meigs, Pike, Ross, Scioto, Vinton and Washington.

The re-nomination of Judge Carlisle means that he will be unopposed in the November election. His full term on the appellate bench will commence Feb. 9, 1963.

Here is how the unofficial Fourth District voting went, Radcliff's votes listed first:

PICKAWAY 1,914-252; Scioto 2,213-408; Ross 1,925-2,260; Hocking 632-453; Athens 1,432-2,064; Meigs 1,101-2,010; Gallia 1,599-1,397; Lawrence 2,892-2,908; Adams 520-1,242; Brown, 346-353; Highland 730-980; Vinton 523-764; Jackson 1,587-2,253; Washington 1,133-950; Pike 324-525.

Probe of Estes Affair Readied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said today he plans a broad investigation into the affairs of Billie Sol Estes but won't be stamped into starting hearings prematurely.

"You can't go into hearings without knowing what you are doing," said McClellan, chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee. "We are not going to move until we feel we are ready."

The subcommittee has assigned 10 investigators to look into charges that Estes profited from political influence in Washington. Estes had dealings under the government's cotton program and stored government-owned surplus grain in elevators he owned.

Incumbent Morris Earns Demo Nomination for Commissioner

Incumbent Charles Morris Jr. will be the Democrat candidate for the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners post in the November election.

Morris, current chairman of the Commission, earned the nomination in yesterday's primary election, defeating Democrat opponent Charles H. Glitt by 441 votes. The unofficial count after last night's counting was 1,619 to 1,178 in favor of the successful nominee.

Morris jumped to an early lead during the evening counting, but Glitt remained in contention even after more than half of the 49 precincts in the city and county reported results.

The successful candidate started to pull away as voting stations reporting neared the finish line.

GLITT carried eight of 15 precincts in Circleville, but the total unofficial count favored Morris, 484-482. Morris was top vote getter in 30 of the county precincts and Glitt carried three. One precinct, Monroe South, showed an even split at 24-24.

In precincts outside of Circleville, Morris accumulated 1,135 votes. The showing for Glitt was 696.

Morris received his largest support in Williamsport where he polled 65 votes. He tallied 61 at Saltcreek North, his home precinct.

Glitt's heaviest vote was in Circleville Twp. where he received 53 votes, although Morris registered 54 there. The unsuccessful candidate's biggest majority was in precinct 1-F which he carried, 40-16.

Morris, a Saltcreek Twp. farmer, will now oppose Republican Wayne Hines in the November election. Hines received 1,825 complimentary votes yesterday.

The Democratic candidate, a veteran of World War II, served as a Saltcreek Twp. trustee for six years prior to assuming his Commission duties. He based his campaign for a second term on "a firm support of a progressive road and bridge program and an improvement in the future planning of Pickaway County."

The Commission race was the only local contest in yesterday's primary. Progress of the counting results was closely observed until the final tabulation was made.

McElroy, former state legislator from Cleveland, campaigned right up to poll-closing time with a slogan of "more jobs; not more taxes." He took his theme from widespread grumbling over recent and big tax boosts rammed through the 1959 legislature at DiSalle's behest while Democrats were in control.

DiSalle termed McElroy's campaign the most extensive and expensive for an Ohio primary. Multi-colored literature, press releases and statements flowed from McElroy headquarters. A flurry of radio and TV spot announcements blanketed the state over the weekend.

12 Elephants Lined Up for College Race

FULLERTON, Calif. (AP) — There's no ivy in the halls of 3-year-old Orange County State College.

But there's going to be plenty of ivory on campus Friday when the school hosts the world's first intercollegiate elephant racing meet.

Orange County says it has 12 entries lined up—and may get one more—as a result of what started as a tongue-in-cheek challenge to an elephant race to 18 universities two weeks ago.

Since then the school has been flooded with inquiries and good wishes. Administrators even got a telegram from former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who advised the sponsoring elephant racing club: "Best of luck to you. I know from sad experience that there's more to pachyderm racing than meets the eye."

The elephants, rented from circuses, zoos and animal farms for $150 and up, come in a variety of sizes.

The largest is a five-ton gray eminence nicknamed, by students "Calvin Coolidge"—because he doesn't choose to run. Harvard's entry, weighing 4½ tons, is named "Sonita." There's a dainty entrant called "Popsie," sponsored by Santa Monica City College.

McElroy Defeated by DiSalle In Democrat Governor Race

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle won renomination in Tuesday's primary election over Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, who waged one of the toughest Democratic battles ever seen in Ohio.

DiSalle's foe in the Nov. 6 general election is State Auditor James A. Rhodes, former Columbus mayor, who swamped his lone opponent for the Republican nomination.

McElroy, former state legislator from Cleveland, campaigned right up to poll-closing time with a slogan of "more jobs; not more taxes." He took his theme from widespread grumbling over recent and big tax boosts rammed through the 1959 legislature at DiSalle's behest while Democrats were in control.

DiSalle termed McElroy's campaign the most extensive and expensive for an Ohio primary. Multi-colored literature, press releases and statements flowed from McElroy headquarters. A flurry of radio and TV spot announcements blanketed the state over the weekend.

And McElroy hammered away at DiSalle's change of mind in foreseeing a bid for renomination last Oct. 20 only to change his mind and announce Jan. 12. That was barely a week after President Kennedy attended a big birthday party here for the 54-year-old DiSalle.

A third Democratic candidate, Alexander G. Metrakos of Cleveland, and Rhodes' GOP opponent, William L. White of Mount Vernon, received token votes.

Rhodes, known as a hard campaigner, lost the 1954 gubernatorial race against Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, now U. S. Senator. Lausche went on to become Ohio's only five-term governor before going to Washington.

Lausche, the former Cleveland judge and mayor, displayed his vote-getting prowess by swamping two Democratic opponents for the U. S. senatorial nomination. They were Albert T. Ball of Cleveland and Raymond W. Beringer of Toledo.

John Marshall Briley of Toledo, who quit as a business executive to make his first bid for public office, won the GOP nomination and the right to face Lausche. Briley, former chairman of the Ohio Republican Finance Committee, defeated three challengers. They were Summit County Prosecutor John S. Ballard of Akron and State Sens. Charles E. Fry of Springfield, the runner-up, and Ross Pepple of Lima.

Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati, son of the late U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft, won the Republican nomination for congressman-at-large handily over State Sen. Lowell Fess of Yellow Springs, son of the late U. S. Sen. Simeon D. Fess.

Taft's Democratic opponent capitalized on a popular name to win nomination. He is Richard D. Kennedy, real estate dealer who cut his political teeth in unsuccessful bids for state senator in 1958 and for mayor of Cleveland the following year.

School Issues, One Race Hold Main Interest

About fifty per cent of Pickaway County's 13,692 registered voters marched to the polls during yesterday's Primary Election.

A total of 6,307 ballots were cast for 94 candidates and four special issues. A breakdown listed 3,082 Democrat and 2,225 Republican votes.

Two school bond issues met the voters approval. One was for the construction of a new high school for the Westfall District and the other was an operating levy for the Logan Elm Local District.

Ashterville voters approved a levy for the installation of a sanitary sewer system and Scioto Twp. voters recorded a majority of affirmative votes for a fire protection contract with Harrison Twp.

THE ONLY local contest for county offices was for the Democratic nomination for a seat on the Board of County Commissioners. Charles Morris Jr., won the nomination over Charles Glitt by a wide margin.

Pickaway County's Jerry Rasor, Commercial Point, copped the Democratic nomination for the Sixth Congressional District Representative post with a margin of more than 3,000 votes. He will meet GOP incumbent William H. Harsha Jr., Portsmouth, in the November general election.

James A. Rhodes was the county's choice for governor with a total of 2,089 votes. Mark McElroy ran second with 1,593 ballots cast in his favor and Michael V. DiSalle was third with 1,194 votes.

William D. Radcliff lost out in the race for the Fourth District Court of Appeals. His opponent, Marshall M. Carlisle topped his vote by nearly 3,500.

Board of Elections officials finished their tabulations shortly after 2 a. m. today as the last precinct, Deercreek Twp., turned in its ballots.

Firemen Deny Any Whistling

STEBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Fire Chief Ralph A. Lonetto made a public announcement Tuesday to let the women of Steubenville know that his men are not responsible for those wolf whistles near the South Street fire station.

The chief investigated after receiving a number of complaints from women who said they were whistled at when they passed the station.

The whistler turned out to be a myna bird, the pet of a resident across the street from the fire station. The myna is a bird that only whistles but can be taught to talk as well.

Reds Demand France Action

Soviet Refuses Sign A-Test Ban Treaty

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union declared today it will never sign any nuclear test ban treaty without France.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin announced the Soviet position at a session of the 17-nation disarmament conference discussing the test ban negotiations of the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union.

Zorin referred to the recent French underground test in the Sahara.

"There is another power now testing nuclear weapons. This power is refusing to take part in the negotiations and has never said it would adhere to a nuclear test ban treaty," Zorin said.

"The Soviet Union will not sign any treaty on banning nuclear tests unless France is a party to it."

France has never taken part in the test ban talks, and has boycotted the disarmament conference since it opened March 14.

The United States detected the French nuclear test before Paris announced it and Zorin used this to support the Soviet position that no international control system is necessary to police a test ban.

"The fact that the test was picked up by the United States bears out our assertion that all tests can be detected by national detection systems," Zorin declared.

The test ban negotiations are deadlocked by the Soviet refusal to discuss any arrangements allowing for compulsory inspection of suspicious earth tremors. The United States and Britain refuse to accept a test ban without such a control system.

Army Cuts Draft Call

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army's July draft quota will be 5,000 men—the smallest call since the beginning of partial mobilization last summer. The largest was 25,000 in September.

Ohio Congressmen Campaign For $8 Million Flood Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Ohio members of the House planned to urge today approval of more than $8 million to construct water projects in the state.

The total includes nearly $1 million not requested in President Kennedy's budget for the year beginning July 1.

The four are Reps. Charles A. Mosher, William M. Harsha, John M. Ashbrook, Republicans, and Democrat Charles A. Vanik. All are scheduled to testify before the House Public Works Appropriations Subcommittee.

Mosher said he will ask for approval of $5,695,000 for the Sandusky, Lorain and Huron harbors. The projects and money are already listed in the Kennedy budget.

Harsha said he seeks $250,000 each for pre-construction planning on three projects not budgeted—the Big Darby reservoir in Franklin and Madison counties, the Deer Creek reservoir in Pickaway and Fayette counties and the Paint Creek reservoir in Ross and Highland counties.

Ashbrook planned to ask for $75,000 to start pre-construction planning on the North Branch Kokosing reservoir near Fredericktown and $110,000 for a snagging and clearing project on the Kokosing at Mount Vernon.

Vanik will accompany a Cleveland group testifying in support of $1,753,000 budgeted for work on the harbor there.

The projects in Ashbrook's 17th District are not included in the budget.

Harsha said the three reservoirs in his 6th District are needed to prevent the recurrence of floods—like the one at Chillicothe three years ago that caused evacuation of 9,000 persons and estimated damage of $2.8 million.

Total estimated costs of the three projects in the Scioto River basin are $24.5 million for the Big Darby, $15.8 million for the Deer Creek and $19.8 million for the Paint Creek.

Mosher supports budget allocations of $3.3 million for Lorain Harbor construction and $1.8 for Sandusky Harbor. Both harbors would be deepened to handle deep-draft ships.

In addition, Mosher backs budgeted items of $148,000 for operation and maintenance at Lorain Harbor, $115,000 for operation and maintenance at Sandusky, and $200,000 for major rehabilitation at Sandusky.

Mosher's testimony also included support of a $72,000 item for operation and maintenance of Huron Harbor and $60,000 for a Lake Erie coast survey of small boat harbors of refuge.

The bond issue now lays the groundwork for the future erection of a new high school for the purpose of centralizing Williamsport-Atlanta, Jackson, Monroe and Darby Schools.

All four schools faced invocation of charter revocations in 1963 unless the bond issue was passed. An inspection by the State Department of Education late last year indicated that the schools failed to meet minimum state standards.

The State Board of Education later moved that the charters be revoked unless corrective steps be taken.

A campaign was launched several weeks ago by a Citizens Committee of the school district to promote efforts in passing the issue. Appeals were made throughout the district.

IF THE measure had failed, Westfall students faced the possibility of being placed in schools outside the district on a tuition basis.

The Westfall Board of Education already is in the process of negotiating for land for construction of the new building. According to school officials, one proposed site is at Route 56 and the Darbyville-Williamsport Road at Pheasant.

In last night's vote counting, the issue moved ahead at the outset and held a slight affirmative edge after about half the precincts had reported in. The margin then grew steadily during the later portion of the counting. A majority affirmative was needed for passage.

Truman Is Touched By Student Visit

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A hint of tears came to Harry Truman's eyes when 71 exchange students from foreign lands trooped in to shake his hand Tuesday.

"It was so kind of you to come and celebrate the birthday of a 78-year-old man who has just about reached the end of the road," said the former president.

Their meeting climaxed the annual birthday party given for Truman by hometown friends. Guests included Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Faulty Electric Chair Delays 2 Executions

RAIFORD, Fla. (AP)—Trouble with Florida's electric chair delayed the scheduled execution of two convicted murderers today.

Warden Dewitt Sinclair postponed the execution of Robert Lee Jefferson and Johnnie Hill until Saturday at 8:30 a.m.

They will be the first to die in the new death house at state prison, Sinclair said when the equipment was given a routine check it didn't function properly.

Judge Radcliff Is Unseated in Appellate Race

Marshall Carlisle Of Jackson Victor In Fourth District

MARSHALL M. CARLISLE

Judge William D. Radcliff's bid for re-election to the Fourth District Court of Appeals was halted in yesterday's primary by Marshall M. Carlisle of Jackson.

Judge Radcliff, a Williamsport native and current Circleville resident, had been listed as a favorite in local electoral circles. However, the 22,459 votes pulled in by Carlisle were too much to overcome.

The local judicial veteran polled 18,871 votes following today's final but unofficial count. The race remained close during the early morning tabulations and until the last of the district's 15 counties reported results.

Pickaway was one of four counties casting marginal votes for Judge Radcliff, his count here being 1,914-232. Other counties showing majorities for him were Hocking, Gallia and Washington.

JUDGE CARLISLE was given his heaviest support in Scioto County where he forged ahead with 4,048 votes. Radcliff received 2,213.

Carlisle also ran as a heavy favorite in his home county of Jackson where 2,253 gave him affirmative nods. Radcliff's showing there was 1,587.

Another heavy voting county was Lawrence where 2,908 ballots were cast for Carlisle and 2,892 for Radcliff.

Counties comprising the Fourth District are Pickaway, Adams, Athens, Gallia, Brown, Highland, Hocking, Lawrence, Jackson, Meigs, Pike, Ross, Scioto, Vinton and Washington.

The re-nomination of Judge Carlisle means that he will be unopposed in the November election. His full term on the appellate bench will commence Feb. 9, 1963.

Here is how the unofficial Fourth District voting went, Radcliff's votes listed first:

PICKAWAY 1,914-232; Scioto 2,213-4,048; Ross 1,925-2,290; Hocking 632-453; Athens 1,432-2,064; Meigs 1,101-2,010; Gallia 1,599-1,397; Lawrence 2,892-2,908; Adams 520-1,242; Brown, 346-353; Highland 730-980; Vinton 523-764; Jackson 1,587-2,253; Washington 1,133-950; Pike 324-525.

Probe of Estes Affair Readied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said today he plans a broad investigation into the affairs of Billie Sol Estes but won't be stampeded into starting hearings prematurely.

"You can't go into hearings without knowing what you are doing," said McClellan, chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee. "We are not going to move until we feel we are ready."

The subcommittee has assigned 10 investigators to look into charges that Estes profited from political influence in Washington. Estes had dealings under the government's cotton program and stored government-owned surplus grain in elevators he owned.

Incumbent Morris Earns Demo Nomination for Commissioner

Incumbent Charles Morris Jr. will be the Democrat candidate for the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners post in the November election.

Morris, current chairman of the Commission, earned the nomination in yesterday's primary election, defeating Democrat opponent Charles H. Glitt by 441 votes. The unofficial count after last night's counting was 1,619 to 1,178 in favor of the successful nominee.

Morris jumped to an early lead during the evening counting, but Glitt remained in contention even after more than half of the 49 precincts in the city and county reported results.

The successful candidate started to pull away as voting stations reporting neared the finish line.

GLITT carried eight of 15 pre-

CHARLES MORRIS JR.

incts in Circleville, but the total unofficial count favored Morris, 484-482. Morris was top vote getter in 30 of the county precincts and Glitt carried three. One precinct, Monroe South, showed an even split at 24-24.

In precincts outside of Circleville, Morris accumulated 1,135 votes. The showing for Glitt was 696.

Morris received his largest support in Williamsport where he polled 65 votes. He tallied 61 at Saltcreek North, his home precinct.

Glitt's heaviest vote was in Circleville Twp. where he received 53 votes, although Morris registered 54 there. The unsuccessful candidate's biggest majority was in precinct 1-F which he carried, 40-16.

Morris, a Saltcreek Twp. farmer, will now oppose Republican Wayne Hines in the November election. Hines received 1,825 complimentary votes yesterday.

The Democratic candidate, a veteran of World War II, served as a Saltcreek Twp. Trustee for six years prior to assuming his Commission duties. He based his campaign for a second term on "a firm support of a progressive road and bridge program and an improvement in the future planning of Pickaway County."

The Commission race was the only local contest in yesterday's primary. Progress of the counting results was closely observed until the final tabulation was made.

Once Around Roundtown

MANY, MANY phone calls were received last night at the board of elections office seeking tabulations on contested issues. . . the best of the evening was: "Hello, could you tell me who has the EDGE for the congressional race?" Answer "Yes mam, Rasor has the edge?" The board official didn't realize her humor was showing.

CIRCLEVILLE Area Chamber directors are busy distributing posters and tickets for the city's "One Great Day of Selling" scheduled here May 17.

Designed to promote an economic upswing in Circleville, the Chamber will sponsor Fred A. Palmer on a day-long program of meeting sessions here. . . Palmer is a nationally known consultant rated as a top business promoter.

An afternoon session at the BPO Elks Lodge will be designed as a sales clinic for bankers, sales managers, auto salesmen, realtors and those connected with industry and utilities. . . A meeting at 7:30 p. m., scheduled at the high school, will be devoted as a general sales clinic for everyone, including salesmen, salesladies and community leaders. . .

Additional Chamber activity includes a "Greenin' Member" tomorrow evening for member firms and professional men. . . This event will start at 6:30 p. m. in the St. Phillip's Church Parish House.

Firemen Deny Any Whistling

STEBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Fire Chief Ralph A. Lonetto made a public announcement Tuesday to let the women of Steubenville know that his men are not responsible for those wolf whistles near the South Street fire station.

The chief investigated after receiving a number of complaints from women who said they were whistled at when they passed the station.

The whistler turned out to be a myna bird, the pet of a resident across the street from the fire station. The myna is a bird that only whistles but can be taught to talk as well.

McElroy Defeated by DiSalle In Democrat Governor Race

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle won re-nomination in Tuesday's primary election over Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, who waged one of the toughest Democratic battles ever seen in Ohio.

DiSalle's foe in the Nov. 6 general election is State Auditor James A. Rhodes, former Columbus mayor, who swamped his lone opponent for the Republican nomination.

McElroy, former state legislator from Cleveland, campaigned right up to poll-closing time with a slogan of "more jobs; not more taxes." He took his theme from widespread grumbling over recent and big tax boosts rammed through the 1959 legislature at DiSalle's behest while Democrats were in control.

DiSalle termed McElroy's campaign the most extensive and expensive for an Ohio primary. Multi-colored literature, press releases and statements flowed from McElroy headquarters. A flurry of radio and TV spot announcements blanketed the state over the weekend.

And McElroy hammered away at DiSalle's change of mind in foresaking a bid for re-nomination last Oct. 20 only to change his mind and announce Jan. 12. That was barely a week after President Kennedy attended a big birthday party here for the 54-year-old DiSalle.

A third Democratic candidate, Alexander G. Metrakos of Cleveland, and Rhodes' GOP opponent, William L. White of Mount Vernon, received token votes.

Rhodes, known as a hard campaigner, lost the 1954 gubernatorial race against Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, now U. S. Senator. Lausche went on to become Ohio's only five-term governor before going to Washington.

Lausche, the former Cleveland judge and mayor, displayed his vote-getting prowess by swamping two Democratic opponents for the U. S. senatorial nomination. They were Albert T. Ball of Cleveland and Raymond W. Beringer of Toledo.

John Marshall Briley of Toledo, who quit as a business executive to make his first bid for public office, won the GOP nomination and the right to face Lausche.

Briley, former chairman of the Ohio Republican Finance Committee, defeated three challengers. They were Summit County Prosecutor John S. Ballard of Akron and State Sens. Charles E. Fry of Springfield, the runner-up, and Ross Pepple of Lima.

Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati, son of the late U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft, won the Republican nomination for congressman-at-large handily over State Sen. Lowell Fess of Yellow Springs, son of the late U. S. Sen. Simeon D. Fess.

Taft's Democratic opponent capitalized on a popular name to win nomination. He is Richard D. Kennedy, real estate dealer who cut his political teeth in unsuccessful bids for state senator in 1958 and for mayor of Cleveland the following year.

12 Elephants Lined Up for College Race

FULLERTON, Calif. (AP) — There's no ivy in the halls of 3-year-old Orange County State College.

But there's going to be plenty of ivory on campus Friday when the school hosts the world's first intercollegiate elephant racing meet.

Orange County says it has 12 entries lined up—and may get one more—as a result of what started as a tongue-in-cheek challenge to an elephant race to 18 universities two weeks ago.

Since then the school has been flooded with inquiries and good wishes. Administrators even got a telegram from former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who advised the sponsoring elephant racing club: "Best of luck to you. I know from sad experience that there's more to pachyderm racing than meets the eye."

The elephants, rented from circuses, zoos and animal farms for $150 and up, come in a variety of sizes.

The largest is a five-ton gray eminence nicknamed by students "Calvin Coolidge"—because he doesn't choose to run. . .

Here's Tally For Congress

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Returns on the races for congressional nominations, as compiled by the secretary of state, in districts which had contests (x-incumbent):

5th, Democrat, 342 of 455 polling places: William T. Hunt 6,108, Oliver C. Tester 1,810.

6th, Democrat, 549 polling places complete: Robert C. Armentrout 929, John C. Cutright, 2,148, Jerry C. Rasor 9,534, James E. Shope 4,023, Frank E. Smith 6,200.

6th, Republican, 549 polling places complete: William H. Harsha (x) 23,115, Phillip B. Jenkins 1,611.

7th, Democrat, 583 polling places complete: Philip J. Richie 7,226, Robert A. Riley 6,231.

10th, Republican, polling places complete: Homer E. Abele 18,673, Fred Rice 13,576.

School Issues, One Race Hold Main Interest

About fifty per cent of Pickaway County's 13,692 registered voters marched to the polls during yesterday's Primary Election.

A total of 6,307 ballots were cast for 94 candidates and four special issues. A breakdown listed 3,082 Democrat and 2,225 Republican votes.

Two school bond issues met the voters approval. One was for the construction of a new high school for the Westfall District and the other was an operating levy for the Logan Elm Local District.

Ashville voters approved a levy for the installation of a sanitary sewer system and Scioto Twp. voters recorded a majority of affirmative votes for a fire protection contract with Harrison Twp.

THE ONLY local contest for county offices was for the Democratic nomination for a seat on the Board of County Commissioners. Charles Morris Jr., won the nomination over Charles Glitt by a wide margin.

Pickaway County's Jerry Rasor, Commercial Point, copped the Democratic nomination for the Sixth Congressional District Representative post with a margin of more than 3,000 votes. He will meet GOP incumbent William H. Harsha Jr., Portsmouth, in the November general election.

James A. Rhodes was the county's choice for governor with a total of 2,089 votes. Mark McElroy ran second with 1,593 ballots cast in his favor and Michael V. DiSalle was third with 1,194 votes.

William D. Radcliffe lost out in the race for the Fourth District Court of Appeals. His opponent, Marshall M. Carlisle topped his vote by nearly 3,500.

Board of Elections officials finished their tabulations shortly after 2 a. m. today as the last precinct, Deercreek Twp., turned in its ballots.

Stocks Show Recovery Sign

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was sharply lower early this afternoon but showed signs of vigorous recovery as it moved up from its lowest level. Trading was active.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.70 at 243.10 with industrials down 2.80, rails off .60 and utilities off .86.

Losses of fractions to a point or 2 among key stocks were scattered liberally through the list even though many declines were cut.

Among the volatile issues, declines ran 2 or 3 points while some gains were in the same range.

General Motors fell 3/4 to 52 1/4 on an opening block of 14,600 shares, soon widened the loss to 3/4, then cut the drop to 1/4.

Thousands of Poor Refugees Herded Back into Red China

HONG KONG (AP)—Hong Kong police and British troops have rounded up thousands of refugees from hunger-ridden Red China in recent days and returned them to their Communist homeland.

Overcrowded Hong Kong doesn't have room for them. Other non-Communist nations won't take them.

Some had endured almost incredible hardships in their futile flight by land over rough terrain or by sea crammed below the decks of smuggler junks.

Border patrols caught many as they hid in the underbrush-covered hills on the Hong Kong side of the border.

Others were trapped aboard junks or picked up on side roads as they tried to make their way to the crowded cities of Hong Kong and Kowloon.

They were gathered at a police camp in the closed border area, fed, given some food to carry, and then returned to border crossing stations in police vans and trucks. Their fate, after their forced return to Red China, is unknown.

Government officials refuse to say how many illegal immigrants have been returned. The conservative English-language Morning Post, quoting sources close to the police, said several thousand had been forcibly returned to China in the last week.

Since 1948, the year the Chinese Communists mounted their final drive to seize control of the mainland, more than a million refugees have crossed the China border into this tiny British colony.

Most of them—and their children born since then—are still here. No other nation has been willing to accept them in significant numbers.

Hong Kong's population—600,000 at the end of World War II—has swollen to nearly 3.5 million. The colony has an area of only 391 square miles.

Government officials say the colony no longer has the capacity to care for the natural increase of its present population—91,000 more births than deaths in 1960—and the 10,000 or more refugees who try to sneak into the colony every month.

Tiffin Medical Gear Banned By U.S. Court

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—U.S. District Court here has permanently banned interstate shipment of seven types of electronic medical equipment manufactured by Electronic Instrument, Inc., of Tiffin, Ohio.

A consent decree of permanent injunction was signed by Judge Frank L. Kloebe restraining the company; its president, Dale C. Mowery, and its secretary-treasurer, Helen R. Mowery from further shipment of the machines.

The Food and Drug Administration in Washington had described the machines as "expensive but useless."

The court order prohibited distribution of new, used or repaired devices known as Neurolinometer, Radiocast Model 40, Radiocast Model P, Radiocast treating unit, Electron-O-Ray 46, Electron-O-Ray Model 51 and Auto-Electronic Instrument Model O-21-1-P.

The FDA said the machines were represented as useful in the diagnosis or treatment of conditions of the appendix, thyroid, lungs, kidneys, heart, stomach, liver, eyes, teeth and mammary glands.

Harm might be done by reliance on these machines to the exclusion of good professional care, the FDA said.

Circleville Eighth Graders Place 14 in Top One Per Cent

Fourteen boys and girls in Circleville eighth grade have attained high ratings in the state-wide eighth grade tests.

These pupils ranked in the upper one percent of the 59,000 who took the test April 6. They will receive a special certificate from the State Department of Education. Their scores were 163 or better out of possible 200.

The state median for the test was 101 and the median for the Circleville students was 117.

Thirty-one others in the local eighth grade are in the upper 25 per cent. They will receive certificates for having attained a score of 141 or better. One hundred eighty local students took the test which covered four areas — English, arithmetic, science, and U.S. history (including Ohio history).

J. L. CHILCOTE, principal of Corwin elementary and eighth grade, received the following letter from J. Chandler Campbell, Supervisor of Ohio Scholarship Tests:

"We are pleased to send to you at this time the certificates for the students of your school who ranked in the high one per cent of the state in the Eighth Grade Test and who are entitled to state recognition. This group includes those eighth graders who made a total score of 163 or higher on the 1962 Eighth Grade Test."

"These are the students who achieved a rating of Superior in the State of Ohio. They have a right to be proud of their achievement; they are the best of the approximately 59,000 students who took the 1962 test."

"Our sincere congratulations to them, and to you and your staff."

Here are the pupils, their scores and their parents:

174, Mary L. Mader, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Mader Jr., 160 Pinckney Street; 174, Richard A. Fuhrman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fuhrman, 550 North Pickaway Street; 173, Patricia M. Stocks Show Recovery Sign

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was sharply lower early this afternoon but showed signs of vigorous recovery as it moved up from its lowest level. Trading was active.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.70 at 243.10 with industrials down 2.80, rails off .60 and utilities off .86.

Losses of fractions to a point or 2 among key stocks were scattered liberally through the list even though many declines were cut.

Among the volatile issues, declines ran 2 or 3 points while some gains were in the same range.

General Motors fell 3/4 to 52.00 on an opening block of 14,644 shares, soon widened the loss to 3/4, then cut the drop to 1/4.

Thousands of Poor Refugees Herded Back into Red China

HONG KONG (AP)—Hong Kong police and British troops have rounded up thousands of refugees from hunger-ridden Red China in recent days and returned them to their Communist homeland.

Overcrowded Hong Kong doesn't have room for them. Other non-Communist nations won't take them.

Some had endured almost incredible hardships in their futile flight by land over rough terrain or by sea crammed below the decks of smuggler junks.

Border patrols caught many as they hid in the underbrush-covered hills on the Hong Kong side of the border.

Others were trapped aboard junks or picked up on side roads as they tried to make their way to the crowded cities of Hong Kong and Kowloon.

They were gathered at a police camp in the closed border area.

Tiffin Medical Gear Banned By U.S. Court

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) —U.S. District Court here has permanently banned interstate shipment of seven types of electronic medical equipment manufactured by Electronic Instrument, Inc., of Tiffin, Ohio.

A consent decree of permanent injunction was signed by Judge Frank L. Klobb restraining the company; its president, Dale C. Mowery, and its secretary-treasurer, Helen R. Mowery from further shipment of the machines.

The Food and Drug Administration in Washington had described the machines as "expensive but useless."

The court order prohibited distribution of new, used or repaired devices known as Neurolimeter, Radiocast Model 40, Radiocast Model P, Radiocast treating unit, Electron-O-Ray 46, Electron - O-Ray Model 51 and Auto-Electronic Instrument Model O-21-1-P.

The FDA said the machines were represented as useful in the diagnosis or treatment of conditions of the appendix, thyroid, lungs, kidneys, heart, stomach, liver, eyes, teeth and mammary glands.

Harm might be done by reliance on these machines to the exclusion of good professional care, the FDA said.

Distress Signal Is Blamed on Dawn

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — The Warren County Courthouse custodian starts his work stint about dawn, long before other employees arrive.

One of his first chores is to raise the American flag.

Tuesday, a gray dawn and near zero visibility greeted him.

It was 11:30 a.m. when someone telephoned the Courthouse and asked:

"Did you mean for the flag to be upside down for the primaries?"

Wilmington Farm Used For Milk Experiment

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—An experiment to test theories on maintenance of top milk and butter fat production during the summer months was inaugurated on the Grantstead Farm near here today under the direction of the agricultural engineering department of Ohio State University.

Co-sponsoring the experiment, in which a cow barn will be air-conditioned, are the Airtemp Division of Chrysler Corp.; Ohio Farm Electrification Council and the Dayton Power and Light Co.

More than 45 million families live in the United States, over six and a half million more than a decade ago.

"We are pleased to send to you at this time the certificates for the students of your school who ranked in the high one per cent of the state in the Eight Grade Test and who are entitled to state recognition. This group includes those eighth graders who made a total score of 163 or higher on the 1962 Eighth Grade Test."

"These are the students who achieved a rating of Superior in the State of Ohio. They have a right to be proud of their achievement; they are the best of the approximately 59,000 students who took the 1962 test."

"Our sincere congratulations to them, and to you and your staff."

Here are the pupils, their scores and their parents:

Truthful Expressions

Scientists have proved the statement "as cool as a cucumber" is not merely a figure of speech, but a statement of fact. Tests show a cucumber is 20 degrees cooler inside than on the surface. This is all very heartening, and gives promise of still greater discoveries along similar lines. It is not too much to expect that scores of other oft-used expressions will be shown to contain elements of truth.

Soon it may be revealed how ill is a person as sick as a dog, or how sober is a judge. Is a bug in a rug as snug as people have been led to believe, or is it only as warm as toast? How much income tax does a person pay who is rich as all get out?

Was Lucifer proud or just a show-off? how drunk is a lord how gay a lark how right is rain? Just how is sharp as a tack? Who was the individual who first boasted he had slept like a top? Many well-known expressions need no explanation. There's as round as a ball green as grass (when it rains) sweet as sugar, and many others. The one which needs explanation most of all is "all get out."

Critics Confused

Some Americans view with alarm the increasing influence that professional military men have had in national affairs in recent years. These critics confuse the service of dedicated soldiers with a growth of militarism.

These fearful ones should read a personality sketch of Alfred Dodd Starbird, the Army Engineers major general who is in charge of conducting the current series of atmospheric nuclear tests in the Pacific. General Starbird is representative of the traditional Army family.

Starbird was born at Ft. Sill, Okla., while his father, the late Brig. Gen. Alfred A. Starbird, was serving on that post. His mother was the daughter of a general.

The engineer-general attended West Point military academy and married the daughter of an Army officer. They have three children and one Edward, will be graduated from West Point in June to carry on the family tradition.

Among the professions one will "never get rich in" is the military. Yet soldiers like Starbird, his father, his wife's father, his mother's father and his son, carry on regardless of danger or hardship.

Americans owe much to the regular-service families that continue this tradition of military leadership in peace and war. They are the stanchions supporting the citizen forces that protect us and make our freedom secure.

A Plague on Spring Cleaning!!

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—If cleanliness is next to godliness, most people this time of year are rubbing elbows with heaven.

Now is the time when housewives at home and bosses in the office go on their annual spring tidying up spree.

I hate this seasonal emotional binge because it threatens the lifetime of considered disorder I have let pile up on my desk—my empire of disarray.

One by one the messengers of order—from buck private to vice president—ride up with the query:

"Everybody else has cleaned up his desk, so why can't you? Aren't you getting tired of playing the role of an indoor Huck Finn?"

The answer is a firm "No!"

The urge to a uniform office cleanliness is just one more form of hysteria in a mad world, a succumbing to universal brain-washing and the fear of being found out to be different.

Any coward can clean off his desk and make it look as anonymous as everybody else's desk. But it takes courage to give your desk the stamp of your identity.

My theory is this: I don't feel like everybody else—or anybody else. Why shouldn't, therefore, my desk share this liberty? Why should it be a shining zero, undistinguishable from the rows of gleaming desks around it?

A desk that is always neat is like a person who always has his hair combed—clean but suspiciously unhuman. What emptiness of dream is all that polished perfection hiding?

A face and a desk—so runs my reasoning—both should reflect a personality and show a lived-in look.

Naturally this attitude ends up by making a man an unwilling rebel. If you enjoy having a desk that looks like a quarter section of a city dump, you have to fight the forces of office order to keep it that way.

I don't have a sign saying

"Think!" on the wall behind me. I have signs saying, "Don't throw it away" and "Beware of creeping cleanliness."

My favorite office hero is the late Kansas editor, William Allen White, whose famous rollicking desk was perhaps the most disorderly in the history of American journalism. White's theory was that when a pile of mail became too high and toppled to the floor it was time to pick it up, open the envelopes—and then respond to the letters that really required an answer.

This simple labor-saving device enabled the justly renowned editor to conserve his energy, live to a ripe old age, and write the obituaries or biographies of many of his neater contemporaries.

The trouble with devoting a lifetime to the creation of a truly memorable desk is that when you come to make out your will you have a problem. Who can you leave it to?

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Maybe most of us are going to have to learn new tricks the way jobs are changing.

That, anyway, is the idea of the man steering the federal government's latest drive to aid the hard-core unemployed. Retraining also is being stepped up on two other levels, by local or area projects and by individual corporations and unions.

The federal government, starting July 1, will put $500 million into the job to be spread over three years. Some 8,000 unemployed in depressed localities are already being retrained by the Area Development Agency of the Department of Commerce.

And next week in Dallas, Tex., the American Society of Training Directors of Madison, Wis., will consider ways of retraining automation's refugees. It will consider the plight of both managers and workers faced with new and often bewildering electronic machines. Subjects range from automation mastery to teaching machines. Much of the work eventually will be done by the corporations or industries affected.

In Scranton, Pa., Seymour L. Wolfbein, deputy assistant secretary of the Department of Labor, charged with retraining the unemployed, has studied the possibilities of utilizing home studies as well as group or classroom meetings. He says the new Manpower Training and Development Act lets the government sign contracts with all kinds of educational facilities—correspondence schools, private institutions, the public schools, a union which is running a training program.

And employed workers are also included in many retraining movements. John Villamea, president of International Correspondence Schools, estimates that more than a million workers are now taking job-related studies at home. Together with their employers or their unions they are investing more than $100 million a year in the race to master the new techniques before they sweep over them and leave them stranded.

Retraining is aimed both at older workers with obsolescent skills and youngsters with little or no skill at all. Wolfbein hopes to convince the older worker that he has an equal chance.

Corporate and union programs tend to aid both those now laid off and those still employed but needed for more skilled work. The federal program is aimed more specifically at those out of a job or about to be.

U.S. Birth Rate Hits Record High

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were 4,282,000 babies born last year in the United States—a record.

And, according to a report today by the Public Health Service, the infant death rate reached a new low.

Those were contributing factors to a net increase of 2,580,000 in the population, without taking immigration into account.

The service, on the basis of provisional figures, said the 4,282,000 births during 1961 compared with a previous record of 4,257,650 in 1960.

There were 108,200 infant deaths in 1961, down from 108,800 in 1960, and the infant mortality rate was 25.3 per 1,000 live births, down from the 1960 rate of 25.7, the previous low.

Robert College, an American school in Turkey, was founded by a New York businessman a hundred years ago. Ninety per cent of its students are Turkish.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

TOURING THROUGH the South of France, an American couple drove through one village square where a brass band of 12 musicians was blaring away, under the violent leadership of a perspiring, uniformed maestro, before a deserted house whose every door and window was tightly shuttered.

The driver stopped and asked an onlooker, "Who are they serenading?" "The mayor," was the answer. "Well, why isn't he at the window acknowledging the compliment?" persisted the driver.

"That's the mayor leading the band," explained the onlooker. "What do you expect him to do? Be in two places at the same time?"

Sensible amendment made by W. C. Fields to an old proverb: "If at first you don't succeed, try, try, a couple of times more. Then quit. There's no sense making a fool of yourself."

George Jessel says he's reached the really dangerous age for men: too old for Little League and too young for Social Security. © 1962, by Bennett Cerf. Distributed by King Features Syndicate

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Dear Doctor: Elderly and weak, I have trouble getting in and out of the bathtub. Is there any do-it-yourself equipment that can help?

Mrs. C.R. (Ohio)

Dear Mrs. R.: You can hoist yourself up with a chromium bar attached above the tub like a strong towel rack.

Clamp a safety tub grip — advertised in mail-order catalogues — over the edge of the tub.

Now you can hold on while stepping in and out.

Ask your plumber about installing the chromium bar.

Dear Doctor: What's your recipe for three-calorie salad dressing?

Mrs. J.G. (Wisc.)

Dear Mrs. G.: Many companies manufacture low-calorie dressing. Among the many non-fattening salad dressings in "The Low Calorie Cookbook" (Random House, 1951), Bernard Koten lists this recipe: Mix together 4 fresh or dried sage leaves, 1 tsp. tarragon, 1 tsp. dill, 1 sprig parsley, chopped, 1/2 c. wine or white vinegar, 1/2 tsp. salt, pinch of savory, pinch of pepper and garlic salt to taste. Shake well before using.

Calories per serving? 0!

One reader writes that his colitis wouldn't clear until he stopped using aluminum pots and pans.

Did stainless steel cure or did the cure simply steal in?

Another writes that she used to suffer from an incurable craving for alcohol. She has remained sober, unable to drink a drop, ever since she began gulping down unsaturated fat (safflower oil) capsules.

Now there's fat for thought!

Dear Doctor: My teen-age granddaughter has always suffered from nosebleeds. She has one every month. Why?

Mrs. A.M. (Mich.)

Dear Mrs. M.: Tiny fragile vessel snare the tip of her nose probably break and bleed at the slightest injury. Both womb and nose lining often pass through the same monthly changes. And so the nose may bleed during the menstrual period.

Your doctor can probably seal those tiny vessels to stop these repeated nosebleeds.

Dear Doctor: Caffeine is good for blackouts. Why are people subject to blackouts told not to drink coffee?

Mrs. R.G. (N.J.)

Dear Mrs. G.: Caffeine can pour new energy into weary brain cells, especially when wearing pills, alcohol or exhaustion make them sluggish.

Lack of oxygen triggers most fainting (blackouts). Because caffeine lowers blood pressure and narrows vital arteries, still less oxygen-rich blood can reach the brain. With this trouble, coffee is certainly not your cup of tea!

End Result Is Great

By George Sokolsky

I dropped in to a luncheon which Mary Lasker gives annually to award prizes to some who write about medical matters. Mary Lasker's luncheons are interesting because those who are there are often doctors, of some sort or other, and the table conversation can be rich.

The medical sciences and arts, and their associated disciplines, are achieving wonders not only in prolonging life but in making life more comfortable. As evidence, I offer myself, who, during the past six years, has had all the major illnesses and has only missed four days of work.

Even half a century ago, this would have been impossible. I should surely have died by now. Alive, even gay, I laugh at those who these days live in fear. Feeling very cheerful after Mrs. Lasker's lunch, I bought myself a pretty necktie, went up to my doctor's and got a B-12 shot, just for fun.

And that is really the whole point of the luncheon and all the speeches that were made, except by the politician — as he himself said — Abraham Ribicoff, who wanted us all to favor his ideas about attaching old-age health care to social security, which I do not like, because I have no faith in social security.

It is, of course, tough not to have the money to pay the doctor or the hospital or the undertaker. But then, poverty is always tough and intolerable and is, in many instances, due to shiftlessness and profligacy and an unwillingness to be thrifty and to work hard and to push along. It is preferable to save for a rainy day as Albert Lasker did.

Nevertheless, it must be noted that as old folks grow older and as children do not like to be burdened with aging parents, something must be devised to safeguard these individuals. This is one of the few countries where there are no beggars; on the other hand, it is also a sign of moral decadence that children do not honor their parents by protecting them from dependence on government.

Matches were invented some 135 years ago — we read. And some smokers we know seem to have been fresh out of 'em every since!

The Gulf Stream originates at a mid-Atlantic point between South America and Africa — Factographs. This explains why—natch! — geographers named it after the Gulf of Mexico!

Some astronomers have insisted they saw atmospheric changes on the Moon. What a waste — with no weatherman to blame 'em on!

THE BOMB'S RUSH—A long line of "Ban the Bomb" marchers treks from Holbeak, Denmark, toward Copenhagen to protest nuclear testing. Similar anti-nuclear test demonstrations have surged up elsewhere in world capitals.

Try and Stop Me
By BENNETT CERF

TOURING THROUGH the South of France, an American couple drove through one village square where a brass band of 12 musicians was blaring away, under the violent leadership of a perspiring, uniformed maestro, before a deserted house whose every door and window was tightly shuttered.

The driver stopped and asked an onlooker, "Who are they serenading?" "The mayor," was the answer. "Well, why isn't he at the window acknowledging the compliment?" persisted the driver.

"That's the mayor leading the band," explained the onlooker. "What do you expect him to do? Be in two places at the same time?"

Sensible amendment made by W. C. Fields to an old proverb: "If at first you don't succeed, try, try, a couple of times more. Then quit. There's no sense making a fool of yourself."

George Jessel says he's reached the really dangerous age for men: too old for Little League and too young for Social Security.

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Dear Doctor: Elderly and weak, I have trouble getting in and out of the bathtub. Is there any do-it-yourself equipment that can help?

Mrs. C.R. (Ohio)

Dear Mrs. R.: You can hoist yourself up with a chromium bar attached above the tub like a strong towel rack.

Clamp a safety tub grip — advertised in mail-order catalogues — over the edge of the tub.

Now you can hold on while stepping in and out.

Ask your plumber about installing the chromium bar.

Dear Doctor: What's your recipe for three-calorie salad dressing?

Mrs. J.G. (Wisc.)

Dear Mrs. G.: Many companies manufacture low-calorie dressing. Among the many non-fattening salad dressings in "The Low Calorie Cookbook" (Random House, 1951), Bernard Koten lists this recipe: Mix together 4 fresh or dried sage leaves, 1/4 tsp. tarragon, 1 tsp. dill, 1 sprig parsley, chopped, 1/2 c. wine or white vinegar, 1/2 tsp. salt, pinch of savory, pinch of pepper and garlic salt to taste. Shake well before using.

Calories per serving? 0!

One reader writes that his colitis wouldn't clear until he stopped using aluminum pots and pans.

Did stainless steel cure or did the cure simply steal in?

Another writes that she used to suffer from an incurable craving for alcohol. She has remained sober, unable to drink a drop, ever since she began gulping down unsaturated fat (safflower oil) capsules.

Now there's fat for thought!

Dear Doctor: My teen-age granddaughter has always suffered from nosebleeds. She has one every month. Why?

Mrs. A. M. (Mich.)

Dear Mrs. M.: Tiny fragile vessel snore the tip of her nose probably break and bleed at the slightest injury. Both womb and nose lining often pass through the same monthly changes. And so the nose may bleed during the menstrual period.

Your doctor can probably seal those tiny vessels to stop these repeated nosebleeds.

Dear Doctor: Caffeine is good for blackouts. Why are people subject to blackouts told not to drink coffee?

Mrs. R. G. (N.J.)

Dear Mrs. G.: Caffeine can pour new energy into weary brain cells, especially when sleeping pills, alcohol or exhaustion make them sluggish.

Lack of oxygen triggers most fainting (blackouts). Because caffeine lowers blood pressure and narrows vital arteries, still less oxygen-rich blood can reach the brain. With this trouble, coffee is certainly not your cup of tea!

End Result Is Great

I dropped in to a luncheon which Mary Lasker gives annually to award prizes to some who write about medical matters. Mary Lasker's luncheons are interesting because those who are there are often doctors, of some sort or other, and the table conversation can be rich.

The medical sciences and arts, and their associated disciplines, are achieving wonders not only in prolonging life but in making life more comfortable. As evidence, I offer myself, who, during the past six years, has had all the major illnesses and has only missed four days of work.

Even half a century ago, this would have been impossible. I should surely have died by now. Alive, even gay, I laugh at those who these days live in fear. Feeling very cheerful after Mrs. Lasker's lunch, I bought myself a pretty necktie, went up to my doctor's and got a B-12 shot, just for fun.

And that is really the whole point of the luncheon and all the speeches that were made, except by the politician — as he himself said — Abraham Ribicoff, who wanted us all to favor his ideas about attaching old-age health care to social security, which I do not like, because I have no faith in social security.

It is, of course, tough not to have the money to pay the doctor or the hospital or the undertaker. But then, poverty is always tough and intolerable and is, in many instances, due to shiftlessness and profligacy and an unwillingness to be thrifty and to work hard and to push along. It is preferable to save for a rainy day as Albert Lasker did.

Nevertheless, it must be noted that as old folks grow older and as children do not like to be burdened with aging parents, something must be devised to safeguard these individuals. This is one of the few countries where there are no beggars; on the other hand, it is also a sign of moral decadence that children do not honor their parents by protecting them from dependence on government.

You're Telling Me!
By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Writer

The space research program has had an unexpected but highly welcome payoff in the discovery of materials making for better household utensils. Some of it's so good it's virtually out of this world!

Cops rounded up a Cuzco, Peru, gang which robbed a bank of $100,000 to finance a rebellion. What a revolting idea!

Matches were invented some 135 years ago — we read. And some smokers we know seem to have been fresh out of 'em every since!

The Gulf Stream originates at a mid-Atlantic point between South America and Africa — Factographs. This explains why—natch! — geographers named it after the Gulf of Mexico!

Some astronomers have insisted they saw atmospheric changes on the Moon. What a waste — with no weatherman to blame 'em on!

The general cry is that hospitals charge too much, which is true, if one does not have the money to pay the going rates. On the other hand, how much is too much about anything? For instance, when my life was saved from a cancer, I regarded the cost very small indeed, because I enjoy living. It is an extremely pleasant episode.

For one who does not enjoy remaining alive but who hopes to take a trip to Hong Kong rather than to pay a doctor, the price is too high. But it is not so long ago that nobody survived certain illnesses which are today handleable by capable doctors and surgeons. This is what the Lasker Foundation luncheon seeks to make known by stimulating interest in medical reporting.

For instance, there was an interesting discussion about retarded children, for which Rolf Herts-gaard of WBAL-TV of Baltimore won a prize. One constantly meets retarded children and even retarded adults. The slow-witted, as they used to be called, are part of our citizenry and have a vote. Apart from the sufferings of their parents and kinkof, they only too often become bad citizens. The witless often lack memory or they possess lop-sided memories, being blocked on all subjects but one, and that one is sometimes self-preservation which forces them to be liars and cheats.

I can recall, in my childhood, how we used to make fun of such children, but today apparently much can be done for them. The psychologist plays a great role in this reconstruction of children. If only they could reconstruct some adults!

Medicine is no longer, "Stick your tongue out!" The application of every science to the preservation and prolongation of life gives us new responsibilities. For instance, the problems of the oldersters grow more serious and numerous every day, particularly as employment rules are made to conform with life insurance company attitudes that are often unrealistic. The problems arising from our better knowledge of foods are numerous, for we socially inherit tastes which have been proved medically to be damaging.

But the greatest problem today is the unwillingness of the layman to understand that, during a break-through, mistakes are made which might solve some problems, but which temporarily do astonishing things. I once took a pill that turned my hair pink!

THE BOMB'S RUSH—A long line of "Ban the Bomb" marchers treks from Holbeak, Denmark, toward Copenhagen to protest nuclear testing. Similar anti-nuclear test demonstrations have surged up elsewhere in world capitals.

28 Members, Guests Attend Pickaway Garden Club Meet

Twenty-eight members and guests were present when the Pickaway County Garden Club met in the Circleville High School social rooms.

Mrs. Schubert Measamer, president, conducted the business meeting.

The club voted to have the planter at the Home and Hospital permanently filled with shrubbery. Mrs. Guy Campbell and Mrs. Shelby Tegardin are in charge of this project.

The Columbus Regional and Columbus Council annual meeting will be held June 19 at Blacklick Woods Park—Maple Beach Lodge, East Livingston Ave., Columbus. Persons attending are requested to bring covered dish and table service.

Mrs. Measamer announced that members have until Saturday to make reservations for the luncheon at Pickaway Arms preceding the annual spring flower show sponsored by the club.

Persons wishing to exhibit in the flower show must have their space reserved by Monday.

Mrs. Moffitt, workshop chairman, announced that a workshop will be held June 12. The time and place will be announced later.

Mrs. H. Miller Dunkel, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Albert McIlvaine, Frankfort. She addressed the club, in the absence of Mrs. Reginald Blue, on "The Growing and Showing of Tulips".

Mrs. McIlvaine, who hails from the South, stressed the point that tulips grown in the North far surpass those grown in Southern States.

She said northern grown tulips are larger flowered and have longer and sturdier stems. She said there are three classes of tulips: Early flowering—April, single and double early. Midseason—10-14 days earlier than Darwin; Mendel and Triumph. Late Flowering—May; Cottage, Lilly Flowering, Darwin, Breeder, Doubles and Parrot.

Mrs. McIlvaine stressed that when choosing specimen tulips for a show choose one with large bloom, good substance, smooth fine texture, stiff—straight stem. Flower freshness is determined by petals overlapping. Petal texture should be thick, firm and velvety. Color clear and rich and it should have sheen on the inside of the cup. When cutting tulip allow leaves to remain on the stem. Cut below second leaf.

Mrs. McIlvaine exhibited many specimens from her garden. After her talk they were judged by Mrs. Emmett Barnhart and Mrs. Oscar Root, members of the club.

The speaker mentioned their Annual Flower Show will be Saturday at the Frankfort Primary Building, Frankfort, Hours 2-8 p. m. The title of the show is "Maytime in Ross County". It is sponsored by the Frankfort and Orchard Hill Garden Clubs.

Guests were Mrs. Ernest B. Cutler, Mrs. Robert McCoy, Mrs. William Brenner. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served from a table featuring a centerpiece of pink tulips, orchid and white lilies. Pink candles and a pink linen cloth accentuated the centerpiece made by Mrs. John Mast.

Window arrangements featuring lilies and tulips were furnished by Mrs. Forrest Croman, Mrs. Sterley Croman and Mrs. T. L. Huston.

Hostesses were, Mrs. John Eshelman, chairman; Mrs. John Mast, Mrs. Paul White, Mrs. Doyle Painter, Mrs. Theodore Huston, Mrs. Sterley Croman and Mrs. Forrest Croman.

Shower Honors Miss Follrod At Ashville

Miss Anita Follrod, bride-elect of Mr. Carl Cathel Jr., was honored with a personal shower at a luncheon given by Miss Mary Ellen Downs and Mrs. Don Welsh at the Welsh home, Ashville.

A pink, white and orchid color scheme was used throughout. A large bride doll centered the gift table.

Games were played with prizes going to Mrs. Larry Thomas and Mrs. J. T. Weiland.

Guests attending were Mrs. Ross Hamilton, Mrs. Milton Martindale, Mrs. Ronnie McNeal, Mrs. Gail Wolfe Jr., Mrs. Charles Galloway, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Weiland, Miss Downs, and Mrs. Welsh.

Unable to attend but sending a gift was Mrs. Jim D. Mace.

MISS SOLLARS

MISS MARION

Miss Sollars, Miss Marion Jr. Women's Club Winners

Miss Sandra Marie Sollars, a senior at Williamsport High School, has been selected to receive the Freshman Scholarship which is awarded annually by the Circleville Junior Women's Club. Sandra is the daughter of Mrs. Catherine E. Sollars and the late Clarence Sollars.

In addition to maintaining an above-average scholastic standing, Sandra has been active in her school and community. She held a class office during her freshman, sophomore and senior years of high school, and also served as an officer during four years of her membership in the Deercreek Busy Bee's 4-H Club. She plans to enter Ohio State University this fall and work towards a degree in elementary education.

A second place award in the scholarship contest went to Miss Stephanie Ann Marion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marion, 217 N. Scioto St., who is a member of the graduating class at Circleville High School. Stephanie also has a high academic rating, and has a long list of extra-curricular credits.

She plans to begin training at the Riverside-Whitcross School of Nursing this fall.

Judges for the contest were Dr. Milford Tassler, Mrs. William McGinnis Jr., Mrs. Donald Colgrove, Mrs. Maynard Slack, president of Junior Women's Club, and Mrs. Stanley Spring who served as chairman of the club's Education Department.

Ashville Seniors Honored By Women's Civic Club

The graduating seniors of Ashville High School and adviser Russell Gregg and his wife were guests at a tea and program given by the Ashville Women's Civic Club. The tea was held in the First English Lutheran Church social rooms.

Mrs. Tom Purcell, president, extended a welcome to the group.

Club members then repeated the "Collect" followed by all singing "America, the Beautiful". Mrs. Donald Flieri presented a short devotion program.

Entertaining the group first were the "Whippersnapper 8" (minus two). They were Jim McCord, Mike Purcell, Jim Cooper, Harry Rainey and Bill Bromley. Two of the original group, Butch Lockwood and Clyde Campbell, are now serving in the armed forces.

Their comedy act included two numbers, "Blue Water Line" and "Froggie Went A Courtin'".

Miss Barbara Jo Barthelmas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Barthelmas of Wayne Township, and niece of Mrs. Frank Hudson, a club member, showed and narrated an hour's program of color slides taken a year ago January when she visited with many friends abroad.

The pictures were taken in Guam, Manila, Philippines, Hong Kong, Japan, Honolulu and Okinawa.

Her entire journey lasted 56 days and covered 25,000 miles. Following the pictures she showed several souvenirs that she brought home with her.

Following the program guests were served refreshments from a decorated tea table.

Club members held a brief meeting following the tea. Plans were made for the installation of officers at their June dinner meeting to be held at the Fiesta Club in Columbus.

Members will be contacted later by the committee for their dinner reservations and choice of menu. Husbands and guests will be included.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

Tighten the Strings, Pop!

DEAR ABBY: Do you think that children, 14 and 16, who get a generous allowance, should put the arm on their father for extra money to buy a Mother's Day present? If I don't give it to them, they wouldn't have enough money to buy a Mother's Day gift and she would be hurt. I have been buying Mother her gift (from the children) for years, but want to know if you think it is right.

POP

How's the world treating you? For a personal unpublished, reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

DEAR POP: You are a softee. They would be more sentiment in a card, purchased with their "own" hard-earned money than gift to Mother for which Father paid.

DEAR ABBY: I have always gotten a big kick out of your column but never thought I'd be writing in with a problem. Here it is: Every girl I date more than three or four times wants to get married. I am no Cassanova, Abby, but I have this trouble with every girl I start dating. I come from a well-to-do family and have no money worries, but I don't brag about it. I like girls but I don't enjoy being put on the spot with talk of marriage. I don't want to stop dating but can't think of any other way out.

J.P.

DEAR J.F.: I have some shattering news for you. ALL girls want to get married. And if you aren't in the market to buy, better not hang around the merchandise mart.

DEAR ABBY: A letter in your column interested me very much. It was from a boy who said he had been kissed in "Italian." I am an Italian musician and would like to know exactly what an Italian style kiss is. Thank you.

ANGELO

DEAR ANGELO: It starts out pianissimo, reaches a crescendo and winds up fortissimo. Yes, there is a repeat with a second ending.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ALL MOTHERS ON MOTHER'S DAY: If you have no mother to remember on Mother's Day, remember your Father. I mean your Father in heaven. The One who remembered

Miss Watson Honored with Bridal Shower

Miss Rose Ann Watson, bride-elect of Mr. Jerry Davis, was honored with a bridal shower. Mrs. Clydus Leist and Mrs. May Watson were hostesses for the event, held in the EUB service center.

A green and white color scheme was used in the decorating. The gift table was centered with a bride doll.

Games were played and refreshments were served to the following guests: Mrs. Ella Overly, Mrs. Marie Goodman, Mrs. Millie Figget, Mrs. Margaret Watson, Mrs. Patty Kirkwood, Miss Lucille Kirkwood, Mrs. Florence Congrove, Mrs. Mary Davis, Mrs. Bessie Pierce, Mrs. Gladys Cupp, Miss Pauline Cupp, Mrs. Edith Cotton, Mrs. Bessie Dunkle, Miss Donna Woodward, Mrs. Alice Valentine, Mrs. Katherine Martin, Mrs. Alice Thomas, Mrs. Bonnie Watson and Kathy, Mrs. Marjorie Ankrom, Mrs. Laura Davis, Mrs. Lavina Radcliff, Mrs. Alma Alderman, Mrs. Mary Ann Willoughby, Mrs. Lucille Peters, Mrs. Helen Cline, Mrs. Weldon Smith, Mrs. Lucille Thomas, Mrs. Barbara Davis, Mrs. Phyllis Davis, Mrs. Lucille Watson, Mrs. Mary Williams, Mrs. Barbara Lind and Debby, Columbus, Mrs. Annabelle Ward, Ashville, Mrs. Ray Smith, Rushville.

Gifts were sent by approximately 30 guests who were unable to attend. The wedding will be an event of June 16.

Jaycee Wives Meet In Fissell Home

Eighteen members of the Jaycee Wives Club met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. John Fissell, 356 Cedar Heights Rd. Mrs. Jack McGuire was co-hostess.

The business session was devoted to reports on the card party held recently by the Club and the election of officers for the coming year.

New Officers are Mrs. Richard Koch, president; Mrs. John Weigle, vice president; Mrs. John Hill, treasurer; Mrs. Russell Smith, recording secretary; and Mrs. Jack Alkire, corresponding secretary.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Fissell and Mrs. McGuire.

DEAR ABBY: A letter in your column interested me very much. It was from a boy who said he had been kissed in "Italian." I am an Italian musician and would like to know exactly what an Italian style kiss is. Thank you.

Ashville Favors Sewage Issue

Measure Approved In Second Attempt

The $120,000 bond issue at Ashville, for the purpose of paying part of the cost of constructing a sewage treatment plant and improving and extending the sanitary sewerage collection system passed by an unofficial tally of 191 votes for and 139 against in yesterday's primary.

This was more than the 55 per cent affirmative vote needed. Ashville east precinct reported a majority vote of 134-70 in favor of the issue. The western precinct with a total of 126 votes cast found 57 in favor of and 69 against.

The bond issue failed to pass when it first appeared on the ballot in last November's regular election. Although the vote then was 208 for and 187 against, it fell short of the needed 55 per cent majority.

ACCORDING to an estimate of the county auditor's office, the issue will add an additional 2.5 mills to the present tax rate for a maximum period of 25 years.

A representative of the State department of health had indicated to the Ashville village council that the permit to dump sewage into a public stream was in danger of being denied when it came up for renewal unless positive action was taken on the issue.

Coelacanth is a fish with leg-like fins believed to have been extinct 70 million years until living specimens were discovered during this century.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Allies, like a banjo, make good music until a string pops. The United States, trying to make music with its allies, is having trouble with the strings.

Because so many allied nations follow toward the United States a policy laid down by one man, this country can only hope a change in men won't mean a change in policy.

In West Germany Chancellor Adenauer, very pro-Western and a firm ally, has just gone out of his way to belittle this country's efforts to reach a Berlin settlement with the Russians.

The State Department fired back with a public suggestion: Let Adenauer come up with a better idea, if he has one. He was told this country will continue its Berlin talks with Russia.

Diplomats seem to think this spat will be patched over although there has been American-German fussing for weeks.

The days are growing shorter for the 86-year-old Adenauer. The United States can only hope it can't be sure—that when he goes his successor will want to keep Germany tied as closely to its allies as he has.

France has been a long-time ally, too, but by the time President de Gaulle took over four years ago it had begun to look like organized chaos. De Gaulle, like Adenauer, is a pillar of the Western alliance.

But he can be a sticky one. Like Adenauer, he holds his nose over American dealings with Russia on Berlin. Months of talks with the Soviets haven't achieved a settlement but at least some of the heat has died down.

There's no predicting what happens after De Gaulle, judging from the instability of the French governments which preceded him. History may show he was just a brief interlude in tumult.

Britain looks like one ally which figures to stand solidly with the United States, no matter who succeeds Prime Minister Macmillan. But the next prime minister, for reasons personal or due to changing times, may be more difficult.

Yet the American problems with the Western allies, painful as they are at times and disastrous as they could become, are less acute than the dilemmas at the opposite end of U.S. efforts to draw a line against communism.

This country has had its hands full with the pro-Western but right-wing government of conservative Prince Boun Oum in Laos in Southeast Asia.

The Kennedy administration could have thrown American forces into Laos to keep the Communists from overrunning the place. But it felt this was the wrong place to risk a war.

To keep Laos from being taken over completely by communism, the administration agreed to a coalition government made up of conservatives, neutralists and leftists. This in the end could lead to a Red take-over anyway.

But the prince wouldn't go along and so far this government hasn't been able to persuade him to, even though as a nudge it has given $3 million monthly in economic aid to his government.

In the past few days the Communists began a new offensive. Right next door in Viet Nam the United States is steadily getting more involved militarily—just hoping it won't lead to war—in trying to save the pro-Western regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Kidnapers Bound To Grand Jury

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Charles L. Eyer and his wife, Marguerite waived preliminary hearing Tuesday on charges of child stealing and were bound to the Montgomery County Grand Jury.

Kettering Municipal Judge Kenneth Vogt continued bond at $20,000 each.

The couple is charged with stealing nine-year-old Suda Kae Carlisle on April 30 by enticing her into a pickup truck. She was found unharmed the next day at the home of one of Eyer's relatives near Lewisburg in Preble County.

2 Ohioans Convicted In Numbers Racket

WHEELING, W.Va. (AP)—Three Wheeling area men have been convicted by a federal court jury of charges involving an alleged interstate numbers racket. The jury Tuesday found Anthony J. Zambito of Wheeling guilty on all six counts of an indictment and Ohioans Arthur C. Hale of Blaine and James J. Rogerson of Martins Ferry guilty on three counts each. Sentencing was delayed pending possible appeal.

Paul Hankish of Wheeling was acquitted by the jury. Two others in the case previously were acquitted at the direction of U.S. District Court Judge Charles F. Paul.

Ohio Congress Races Set Up

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—The only four Ohio congressmen who faced opposition in Tuesday's primary election came through with flying colors as voters trimmed a field of 71 candidates to 47.

The victors will square off in November for the state's 23 district seats in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Successful in their first step toward a return to Washington were William H. Harsha, R-6th; Michael J. Kirwan, D-19th; Michael A. Feighan, D-20th, and Charles A. Vanik, D-21st.

Eighteen of the other 19 incumbents had no opposition in the primary. Of Ohio's congressmen only Rep. Gordon Scherer, Cincinnati Republican from the 1st District (Hamilton County), is not making a try for another term. Scherer is retiring after five terms in the House.

None of the four incumbents in Tuesday's primary had much difficulty.

Harsha rolled over Phillip B. Jenkins of Portsmouth.

Kirwan had competition from three other Democrats in the 19th District, including former Youngstown judge and mayor Frank R. Franko, but won by a whopping margin over Franko 33,529 to 9,675. Aldo W. Balestra collected 2,680 votes and Andrew J. Susce Sr. got 1,200.

Feighan swamped John P. Marheka of Parma and Vanik won easily from Elmer S. Dula.

Robert W. Levering, a Democrat from Fredericktown ousted from the House two years ago, won a second chance at Republican incumbent John M. Ashbrook. Levering defeated Robert B. Fichter in that contest Tuesday.

State Sen. Oliver Ocasek defeated former Akron Mayor Leo Berg for the Democratic nomination from the 14th District. Ocasek, who also had competition from John H. Mihaly, meets Republican incumbent William H. Ayres in November.

Another state senator to pass his first test for the step to Capitol Hill was Ed Witmer of Canton, who topped two other Democrats for the nomination from the 16th District. Witmer now meets incumbent Frank T. Bow.

J. Grant Keys, the state's director of highway safety, had little trouble in besting two other Democrats in that party's battle in the 13th District. Keys polled 11,089 votes to Howard J. Trumble's 2,212 and Edgar W. Millard's 2,366.

In the most wide-open contest in the state, Columbus television announcer Jerry C. Rasor, who lives in Commercial Point (Pickaway County), edged four other Democrats trying for the nomination from the nine-county 6th District.

In other district contests William T. Hunt of Paulding defeated Oliver C. Tester of Genoa in the Democratic race in the 5th District; Philip J. Ritchie of Fairborn nipped Robert A. Riley of London in the Democratic 7th; in the 10th District Republican primary, R. Fred Rice was leading Homer E. (Pete) Abele by a narrow margin with 164 polling places still to report.

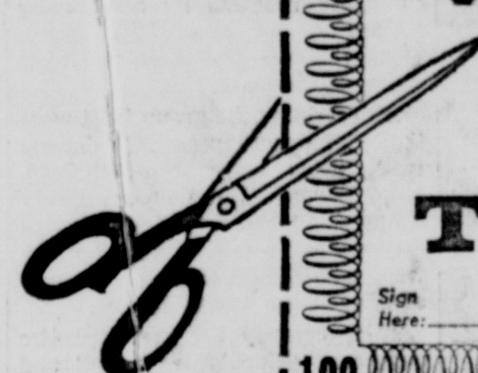

William Vincent Williams beat two other Democrats—Emanuel Cotlar and Edward H. Fee Jr.—in the 19th; Edward Corrigan outpolled John P. Hyland in the Democratic 22nd, and Emil C. Weber defeated Frederick Soukup and Joseph P. Mull in the Democratic 23rd.

In the past few days the Communists began a new offensive.

Tight next door in Viet Nam the United States is steadily getting more involved militarily—just hoping it won't lead to war—in trying to save the pro-Western regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Distasteful as he has been to many Vietnamese—and ineffective as he was in holding back the Communists until the United States pumped in big military supplies and men to help—he has kept a semblance of a government together.

If he goes, internal struggles may turn Viet Nam into a shambles.

Even in a neutral country like India the relationship between it and the United States has been guided almost entirely by one man and, as may show when he's gone, depended upon him.

The neutral but Western-educated Prime Minister Nehru has been friendly to the West and not pro-Communist. But India, with the world's second largest population, has explosive forces bottled up under Nehru.

After him an explosion, shattering to the West, would be no surprise. Thus all around the world American strings are attached to one man here, another there. When these strings pop, there may be no replacements.

Ohio Episcopalians Plan 15 Missions

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Episcopal Diocese of Southern Ohio is planning to set up 15 new missions to keep up with the rising population of the area.

Bishop Roger Blanchard said Tuesday night the missions were decided upon as the result of a three-year study of the diocese.

He added they will be in addition to those underway at Westerville and Mason and those for which property has been secured in Vandalia and in the Finneytown-Brentwood area of greater Cincinnati.

Pulitzer Prize Is Awarded To Takeoff on U.S. Business

NEW YORK (AP) — A smash Broadway takeoff on modern American business and a novel about an Irish-American priest in a rundown Boston parish have won the 1962 Pulitzer Prizes for drama and fiction.

The musical, "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," was written by Abe Burrows, Jack Weinstock and Willie Gilbert, with a score by Frank Loesser. Edwin O'Connor wrote the winning book, "The Edge of Sadness."

"How to Succeed," which already had won awards from the New York Drama Critics Circle and the American Theater Wing, stars Robert Morse as an aggressive young businessman, and Rudy Vallee as a veteran tycoon.

Burrows pictured the award as "a kind of confirmation of what we were trying to do—tell an American story from a specific viewpoint."

The 46th annual Pulitzer Prizes were awarded Monday by the trustees of Columbia University on recommendation of the Advisory Board on Pulitzer Prizes. They are administered by the Graduate School of Journalism under terms of the will of the late publisher Joseph Pulitzer.

The Panama City, Fla., News-Herald won the gold plaque for meritorious public service by a newspaper for its three-year campaign against entrenched corruption in the Gulf Coast city and surrounding Bay County.

Walter Lippman, 72-year-old veteran New York Herald Tribune syndicate writer, was cited for the second time in four years, this time for wise and responsible international reporting. He won a special Pulitzer citation in 1958.

The 1962 prize for news photography went to Paul Vathis of the Harrisburg, Pa., bureau of The Associated Press for a picture of President Kennedy and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. I showed them with heads bowed, backs to the camera during a conference at Camp David, Md., on April 22, 1961.

It was the fifth Pulitzer prize in photography won by Associated Press staffers.

Theodore H. White, who celebrated his 47th birthday on Sunday, became the first winner in a new Pulitzer Prize category for general non-fiction with "The Making of the President 1960," an account of the last presidential campaign.

"I just feel good that a journalistic book has been recognized in the awards," White said.

For the first time in 45 years, the trustees made no award in the category of biography. It was reported Monday night that the trustees had turned down a recommendation by the advisory board for "Citizen Hearst," W. A. Swanberg's book on the life of the late publisher, William Randolph Hearst.

The prize for history went to Lawrence H. Gipson, 81-year-old historian at Lehigh University, for "The Triumphant Empire: Thunderclouds Gather in the West, 1763-1755," volume 10 of a series dealing with the British Empire before the American Revolution.

The music prize was won by Robert Ward, 44-year-old Cleveland-born artist now living in Nyack, N.Y., for "The Crucible," a three-act opera first performed Oct. 26, 1961, at New York City Center. It is based on a play by Arthur Miller.

Alan Dugan, 39-year-old New York City poet, won the poetry award for his "Poems."

Other journalism awards included: Local reporting under the pressure of edition time—Robert D. Mullins, 37, reporter for the Salt Lake City, Utah, Deseret News, for his coverage of a murder-kidnaping at Dead Horse Point, Utah.

Local reporting where edition time is not a factor—George Bliss, 43, of the Chicago Tribune, for his investigative reporting on scandals in the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago.

National reporting—Nathan G. Caldwell, 48, and Gene S. Graham, 37, of the Nashville Tennessean. They were cited for six years of detailed reporting on under-cover cooperation between management interests in the coal industry and the United Mine Workers.

Editorial writing—Thomas M. Storke, 85-year-old editor and publisher of the Santa Barbara (Calif.) News-Press, for editorials "calling public attention to the efforts of the semi-secret John Birch Society to wage a campaign of hate and vilification in Santa Barbara."

Cartoons—Edmund S. Valtman,

47, of the Hartford (Conn.) Times, for a cartoon published Aug. 31, 1961 showing Prime Minister Fidel Castro leading a chained Cuba and telling Brazil, "What you need, man, is a revolution like mine." Valtman is a native of Estonia.

The awards in the journalism category carry a prize of $1,000 each for individuals cited, except where two share a single prize. Prizes in the field of the arts amount to $500.

Jackie Christens Nuclear Submarine

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy smiled, swung with a two-handed grip, and christened America's heaviest submarine, the Polaris-firing Lafayette.

The First Lady swung hard, the champagne bottle smashed across the bunting-decked vessel's nose, a horn sounded, and the Lafayette slid into the Thames River Tuesday.

Earlier, when she arrived at the launching platform, Mrs. Kennedy smiled and waved to members of the crew of the Lafayette, this country's 11th nuclear-powered, ballistic missile submarine.

$150,000 Awarded For Faulty Surgery

CLEVELAND (AP) — Francesco Sanchez, 57, of Brooklyn, N.Y., formerly of Lorain, Ohio, was awarded $150,000 by a federal court jury in a suit against William B. Selnick, an osteopathic surgeon at Bay View Hospital.

Sanchez said he underwent surgery Aug. 10, 1959, for removal of an ulcer. Because of Selnick's negligence, Sanchez claimed, he lost 80 pounds after surgery and five more operations were required.

Airline Sale Said Required

Northeast Firm Ruled On Verge of Folding

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Civil Aeronautics Board examiner has ruled that Hughes Tool Co. (Toolco) should be allowed to acquire control of Northeast Airlines.

Under newly adopted procedures of the CAB, the initial decision of examiner Merritt Ruhlen will become effective within 30 days, unless a petition for review by the board itself is filed by one of the parties.

The examiner said the acquisition should be approved subject to certain reporting restrictions and limitations on commercial transactions between Northeast and Toolco.

The examiner found that: 1. Northeast will collapse and cease operations unless financial assistance is made available immediately.

2. No assistance is available to Northeast either in the form of temporary government subsidy or in reorganization under the bankruptcy law.

3. The record will not support a finding that Toolco has engaged in improper or unlawful activities in relationships with either Trans World Airlines or Northeast. Toolco already owns 78 per cent of TWA, but its stock now is held in a neutral voting trust.

4. Toolco has not unlawfully acquired control of Northeast.

5. Control of Northeast by Toolco will not restrain competition. The board started an inquiry in July 1960 to determine whether Howard Hughes, Toolco or TWA had acquired control of Northeast.

6. Hughes, a Texas industrialist, is owner of the Hughes Tool Co. Later the board consolidated the application of Toolco, Northeast and Atlas Corp. for approval for transfer of control of Northeast from Atlas to Toolco.

Cattle Prices Expected To Show Decline

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department predicted today cattle prices will decline gradually during the next two months. But the downturn is not expected to be as sharp as a year ago.

Cattle prices are near the high for the year. A livestock situation report said hog prices probably will show some improvement starting in late May. They likely will work close to levels of a year ago by the first of July.

The report said the spring lamb marketing season will be in full swing by mid-May with prices significantly above last year. Prices of all livestock are expected, the report said, to decline seasonally the last half of the year. It said lamb prices likely will continue above last year's prices throughout the remainder of the year.

Cash corn prices moved up 1 to 3 cents a bushel with good demand absorbing available offerings. Prices were running from 3 to 6 cents a bushel higher than a year earlier.

Government sales of corn since Oct. 1 totaled 116 million bushels.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department says that if Americans consume a normal amount of milk good nutrition dictates, there would be a shortage of milk rather than a surplus.

It said that if the families whose diet fall below the calcium allowance recommended by the National Food and Nutrition Board were to use the milk to meet that standard, the country would consume 9 per cent more milk.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Ohio Society of New York elected Col. William O. Elroy to a fifth term as president at the group's 77th annual election dinner Monday night.

Guests of honor at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. John H. Glenn Sr., parents of the Ohio-born astronaut. Featured speaker was Joseph P. Kamp, a resident of a Nadel drama critic of the New York World-Telegram & Sun.

Elected vice presidents were: New York residents, Milton Caniff, Stuart Constable, Thomas B. Meek, Donald C. Power and Joseph P. Kamp, non-residents.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, James C. Donnell II, Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., Sen. Frank J. Lausche and William H. Taft, III.

Fellowship

Group Names New Officers

The Senior High Methodist Youth Fellowship of First Methodist Church has elected officers for the 1962-63 year. The group holds weekly meetings of study, worship, and recreation.

President for the coming year will be Miss Beth Rickey, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Rickey, 822 N. Court St. She will assume the duties presently held by Stephanie Marion.

Other officers will be Larry Plum, vice president; Linda Bowers, secretary; Steve Bowers, treasurer; Ellen E. Jenkins, Missionary treasurer; Jackie Town, worship. Leaders of the programs areas will be Shirley Southward, Douglas Dunkie, Diane Dick, Steve Weiler, and Linda Burton.

The total membership will also be divided into five teams next year. They will meet in homes once a month.

PRESIDENTS of the teams will be Mike Wilson, John Wardell, Wayne Winner, Pam Sweeney and Cynthia Thompson. Miss Leola Harmon will represent the local MYF on the District council.

Two major events sponsored by the new council will be the summer camp, July 1 through 7, and an educational tour of Methodist institutions in Cincinnati July 20 and 21. Persons interested may contact either Stephanie Marion or Mike Wilson.

Airline Sale Said Required

Northeast Firm Ruled On Verge of Folding

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Civil Aeronautics Board examiner has ruled that Hughes Tool Co. (Tollco) should be allowed to acquire control of Northeast Airlines. Under newly adopted procedures of the CAB, the initial decision of examiner Merritt Rutledge will become effective within 30 days, unless a petition for review by the board itself is filed by one of the parties.

The examiner said the acquisition should be approved subject to certain reporting restrictions and limitations on commercial transactions between Northeast and Tollco.

The examiner found that: 1. Northeast has collapsed and ceased operations unless financial assistance is made available immediately. 2. No assistance is available to Northeast either in the form of temporary government subsidy or in reorganization under the bankruptcy law.

3. The record will not support a finding that Tollco has engaged in improper or unlawful activities in relationships with other Trans World Airlines or Northeast. Tollco already owns 78 per cent of TWA, but its stock now is held in a neutral voting trust. 4. Tollco has not unlawfully acquired control of Northeast. 5. Control of Northeast by Tollco will not restrain competition. The board started an inquiry in July 1960 to determine whether Howard Hughes, Tollco or TWA had acquired control of Northeast. Hughes, a Texas industrialist, is owner of the Hughes Tool Co. Oral Polio Vaccine
Awaits Cleveland Test

CLEVELAND (AP) — More than 5,000 persons will be given Sabin oral vaccine Sunday in a trial run preparatory to the mass inoculation against infantile paralysis in Cuyahoga County starting late this month.

A spokesman for the Cleveland Academy of Medicine said today that type I vaccine will be administered to persons who have volunteered to man the 89 centers throughout the county for the mass inoculation.

Local Primary Complimentary Vote Heavy

Complimentary votes cast for candidates whose names will appear on the ballot in the November general election were comparatively high as total results of yesterday's primary were tabulated.

Local candidates, who had no opposition on their ticket yesterday will seek three offices in November.

GOP candidate for a seat in the State Legislature is Darrell Hatfield, local insurance agent. He will again meet Democrat incumbent Ed Wallace.

Hatfield received a total complimentary vote of 1,818 and incumbent Wallace received 2,363. Hatfield's strongest support came from Williamsport with a total of 101 votes. Wallace was also supported the strongest in the Williamsport area with a 91 total.

MARVINE Rhoades, present Democrat auditor, will be opposed by the Republicans' choice, Lawrence R. Liston. A total of 2,390 complimentary votes were cast in her favor. The challenger, Liston, received 1,835.

Auditor Rhoades' complimentary vote was the heaviest in the Circleville Twp. and Williamsport areas with about 90 ballots cast in each precinct. Liston's strong support came from Circleville precinct 2-A and the Williamsport area.

Charles Morris Jr., seeking a second term on the county commission, was the local Democrat primary choice over Charles Glitt. Morris will be opposed by the GOP nominee Wayne Hines who lost out in the race for the office at the 1960 general election.

Hines received a total of 1,825 complimentary votes yesterday. He was strongly supported in the Williamsport area with 101 ballots in his favor.

Booby-Trap Setter Bound to Grand Jury

MCARTHUR, Ohio (AP) — A Vinton County farmer charged with first-degree manslaughter in the "booby-trap" shotgun death of a 13-year-old boy was bound over to the grand jury Tuesday in a preliminary hearing.

The farmer, John Page, is free on $1,000 bond. He told County Judge G. E. Sharp he had rigged the shotgun "booby-trap" as a protection against prowlers.

The boy, Howard Ray Reister, died in a hospital April 30 after being shot by the gun a day earlier as he opened a door on the Page farm near Dundas to return a mule. Page was not home at the time.

Workers Campaign To Save Factory

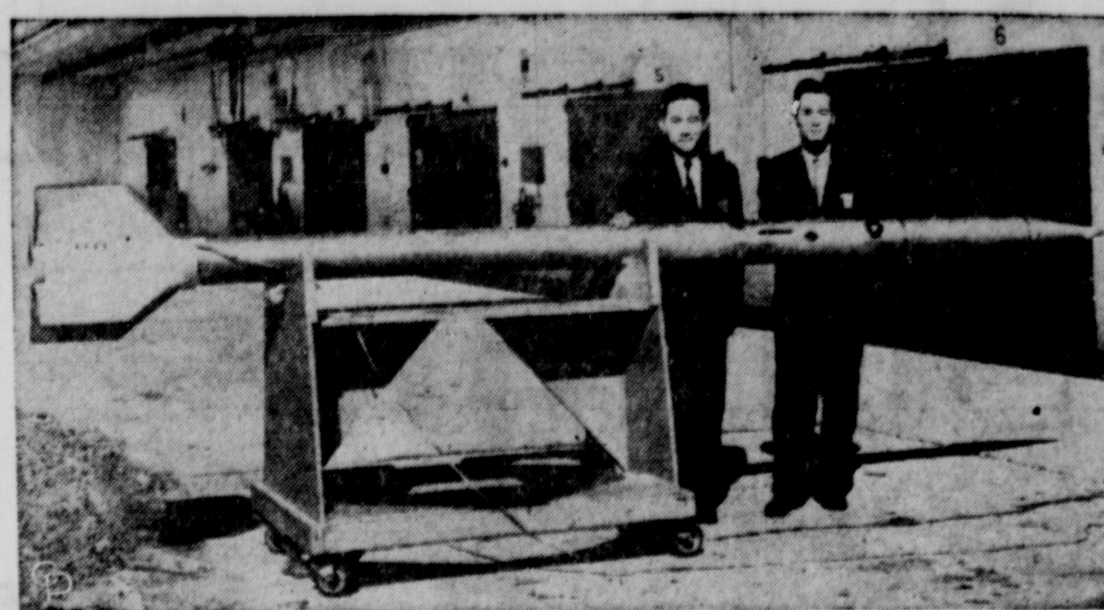

DUNKIRK, N.Y. (AP)—About 800 workers in this city have pledged almost a half million dollars to a campaign to keep an industry running here and save their jobs, union officials say.

Alco Products Inc., announced recently that it would shut down its nuclear components industry in this city of 18,000 and sell the plant. It would mean a loss to the city of more than 800 jobs and a payroll of $5 million annually.

A group calling itself the Northern Chautauqua Area Development Corp. hopes to raise $3 million through sale of common stock at $100 a share to buy the plant.

If successful, they hope to borrow an additional $3.5 million to keep the plant running under their management.

Oral Polio Vaccine Awaits Cleveland Test

CLEVELAND (AP) — More than 5,000 persons will be given Sabin oral vaccine Sunday in a trial run preparatory to the mass inoculation against infantile paralysis in Cuyahoga County starting late this month.

A spokesman for the Cleveland Academy of Medicine said today that type I vaccine will be administered to persons who have volunteered to man the 89 centers throughout the county for the mass inoculation.

and Mrs. Don Rasor and family and Paul Phillips spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ankrom and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hulce and daughter.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Skies were cloudy generally over Ohio Tuesday night as cooler air covered the entire state. Precipitation was confined to the northeast counties where some light drizzle ended shortly after midnight.

Temperatures under cloudy skies were in the 40s in the north and central and 50s south by early today. However, under partial clearing near daybreak, Youngstown dropped to 34. Temperatures elsewhere included Cleveland 41, Cincinnati 52, Columbus 43 and Marietta 49.

Dry, cool weather is in store for most of the state today, except for some showers likely in the southwest.

Thursday cool weather will continue with chance of showers over most areas.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS
NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average three to six degrees below normal. Normal high 64-70, normal low 43-49. Warmer Thursday and Friday, cooler next week. Rainfall will average one-half inch in scattered showers late Thursday or Friday, again first of next week.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average three to six degrees below normal. Normal high 70-75, normal low 48-52. Rainy and cool latter part of week, warmer over weekend, showers and cooler first of next week. Rainfall will average about one inch.

Local Primary Complimentary Vote Heavy

Complimentary votes cast for candidates whose names will appear on the ballot in the November general election were comparatively high as total results of yesterday's primary were tabulated.

Local candidates, who had no opposition on their ticket yesterday will seek three offices in November.

GOP candidate for a seat in the State Legislature is Darrell Hatfield, local insurance agent. He will again meet Democrat incumbent Ed Wallace.

Hatfield received a total complimentary vote of 1,818 and incumbent Wallace received 2,363. Hatfield's strongest support came from Williamsport with a total of 101 votes. Wallace was also supported the strongest in the Williamsport area with a 91 total.

MARVINE Rhoades, present Democrat auditor, will be opposed by the Republicans' choice, Lawrence R. Liston. A total of 2,390 complimentary votes were cast in her favor. The challenger, Liston, received 1,835.

Auditor Rhoades' complimentary vote was the heaviest in the Circleville Twp. and Williamsport areas with about 90 ballots cast in each precinct. Liston's strong support came from Circleville precinct 2-A and the Williamsport area.

Charles Morris Jr., seeking a second term on the county commission, was the local Democrat primary choice over Charles Glitt. Morris will be opposed by the GOP nominee Wayne Hines who lost out in the race for the office at the 1960 general election.

Hines received a total of 1,825 complimentary votes yesterday. He was strongly supported in the Williamsport area with 101 ballots in his favor.

Booby-Trap Setter Bound to Grand Jury

MCARTHUR, Ohio (AP) — A Vinton County farmer charged with first-degree manslaughter in the "booby-trap" shotgun death of a 13-year-old boy was bound over to the grand jury Tuesday in a preliminary hearing.

The farmer, John Page, is free on $1,000 bond. He told County Judge G. E. Sharp he had rigged the shotgun "booby-trap" as a protection against prowlers.

The boy, Howard Ray Reister, died in a hospital April 30 after being shot by the gun a day earlier as he opened a door on the Page farm near Dundas to return a mule. Page was not home at the time.

Workers Campaign To Save Factory

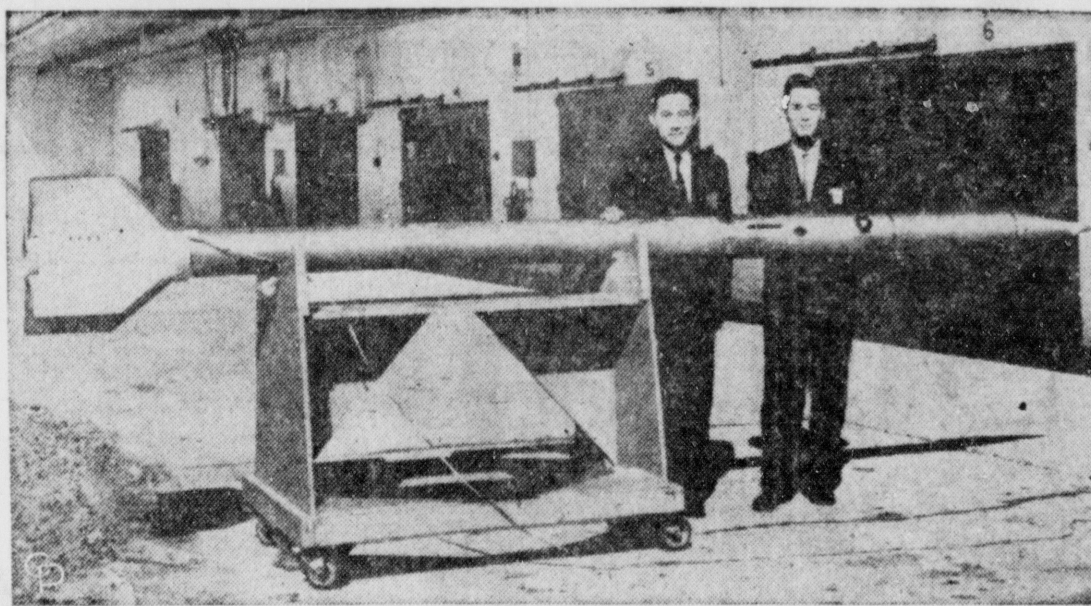

DUNKIRK, N.Y. (AP)—About 800 workers in this city have pledged almost a half million dollars to a campaign to keep an industry running here and save their jobs, union officials say.

Alco Products Inc., announced recently that it would shut down its nuclear components industry in this city of 18,000 and sell the plant. It would mean a loss to the city of more than 800 jobs and a payroll of $5 million annually.

A group calling itself the Northern Chautauqua Area Development Corp. hopes to raise $3 million through sale of common stock at $100 a share to buy the plant.

If successful, they hope to borrow an additional $3.5 million to keep the plant running under their management.

Ohio Voters Are Reluctant To OK Pocketbook Issues

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio voters appeared reluctant to further tap their pocketbooks in Tuesday's primary election. According to early returns, approval of issues appeared to be running about even with defeats.

The welfare situation in Franklin County received a big blow when a one-mill levy for health, medical and child care services lost by close to a two-to-one margin.

A simple majority was needed to pass the proposal — watered down from last fall's defeated 1.8-mill welfare levy. Welfare officials have said failure of the levy would cause curtailing services already rated well below state standards.

The University of Cincinnati's third try at attracting a permanent source of money for operating the city-owned school was an apparent success by a slim margin—623 votes — in Tuesday's election.

In Cincinnati's 741 precincts, the proposed change in the city charter for a permanent one-mill levy for the school passed 22,934 votes to 22,311.

It will produce about $1.2 million yearly.

In Lorain, a three-mill city operating levy was passed 2,221 to 2,149. It included a two-mill renewal and increase of one mill for five years.

Elyria voters turned down three proposals for tax monies. The renewal of a two-mill levy for five years for current city expenses was defeated by nearly two to one. Rejected by almost as large a margin was a bond issue for buildings, additions and improvements.

to Mentor Village in Lake County was approved by a vote of 2,264 to 1,501, creating a city of 25,000 in a 33 square mile area.

Early returns showed approval by a 1,000-vote margin of a $4.2 million bond issue for a $6.4 million Licking Memorial Hospital in Newark. Voters approved a 1.3-mill tax levy to run for 20 years with the remaining $2.2 million of the cost assured through federal Hill-Burton funds.

School bond issues totaling more than $5 million were approved by four small communities in the Cleveland area — Orange, Strongsville, Macedonia and Twinsburg.

Strongsville, which twice rejected building issues, approved money for a $1.1 million high school issue and $350,000 for an elementary building by a 4-3 margin.

Orange School District, which killed a similar bond issue last November by a narrow margin, went for a $1,875,000 bond issue to build a new junior high school and a new high school gym.

The Cleveland suburb of Beach-wood also okayed a school bond issued—$370,000 for improvements and additions.

Ohio Voters Are Reluctant To OK Pocketbook Issues

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio voters appeared reluctant to further tap their pocketbooks in Tuesday's primary election. According to early returns, approval of issues appeared to be running about even with defeats. The welfare situation in Franklin County received a big blow when a one-mill levy for health, medical and child care services lost by close to a two-to-one margin. A simple majority was needed to pass the proposal — watered down from last fall's defeated 1.8-mill welfare levy. Welfare officials have said failure of the levy would cause curtailing services already rated well below state standards. The University of Cincinnati's third try at attracting a permanent source of money for operating the city-owned school was an apparent success by a slim margin—623 votes — in Tuesday's election.

In Cincinnati's 741 precincts, the proposed change in the city charter for a permanent one-mill levy for the school passed 22,934 votes to 22,311. It will produce about $1.2 million yearly. In Lorain, a three-mill city operating levy was passed 2,221 to 2,149. It included a two-mill renewal and increase of one mill for five years. Elyria voters turned down three proposals for tax monies. The renewal of a two-mill levy for five years for current city expenses was defeated by nearly two to one. Rejected by almost as large a margin was a bond issue for buildings, additions and improvements in the Elyria School District. An additional 2.75 mills for two years for current school expenses lost by a smaller margin. The annexation of Mentor Twp. to Mentor Village in Lake County was approved by a vote of 2,264 to 1,501, creating a city of 25,000 in a 33 square mile area. Early returns showed approval by a 1,000-vote margin of a $4.2 million bond issue for a $6.4 million Licking Memorial Hospital in Newark. Voters approved a 1.3-mill tax levy to run for 20 years with the remaining $2.2 million of the cost assured through federal Hill-Burton funds. School bond issues totaling more than $5 million were approved by four small communities in the Cleveland area — Orange Strongsville, Macedonia and Twinsburg. Strongsville, which twice rejected building issues, approved money for a $1.1 million high school issue and $350,000 for an elementary building by a 4-3 margin. Orange School District, which killed a similar bond issue last November by a narrow margin, went for a $1,875,000 bond issue to build a new junior high school and a new high school gym. The Cleveland suburb of Beachwood also okayed a school bond issued—$370,000 for improvements and additions.

Ohio Primary Poll Sets Up Fall Election

Only four Ohio congressmen had opposition in the state's 23 districts and all won handily.

The voting cut a field of 68 candidates for statewide elective offices to 22. Results of major contests included:

Lieutenant Governor — Democrat, John J. Gallagher, Cleveland businessman, over Ohio House Minority Leader James A. Lantz of Lancaster and three others. Republican, State Sen. John W. Brown of Medina over five opponents for nomination to the post he formerly held for two terms.

Attorney General — Democrat, Robert E. Sweeney, over Lakewood Mayor Frank P. Celeste in a field of five. Republican, former Atty. Gen. William A. Saxbe of Mechanicsburg over John A. Lloyd Jr. of Cincinnati and Robert L. Marrs of Hamilton.

State Auditor — Democrat, Lt. Gov. John W. Donahy of alliance, unopposed. Republican, former state treasurer Roger W. Tracy of Columbus over Richard W. Brown of Indian Hill, Cincinnati suburb, and James J. Barton of Middleburgh Heights.

Secretary of State — Democrat, former Mayor Charles L. Babcock of Canton leading former Barton Mayor Catherine R. Dobbs, only woman on the statewide ballot, in a field of five. Republican, incumbent Ted W. Brown of Columbus, unopposed.

State Treasurer — Democrat, Thomas E. Ferguson, son of State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson of Columbus, unopposed. Republican, John D. Herbert of Columbus, son of Ohio Supreme Court Judge Thomas J. Herbert, over four opponents.

Chief Justice — Democrat, incumbent Carl V. Weygant of Lakewood, unopposed for a sixth six-year term. Republican, Supreme Court Judge Kingsley A. Taft of Columbus, unopposed.

Supreme Court Judge (Jan. 1 Term) — Democrat, Common Pleas Court Judge James J. Mayer of Mansfield, unopposed. Republican, incumbent Judge John M. Mathias of Columbus, unopposed.

Supreme Court Judge (Jan. 2 Term) — Democrat, Springfield Municipal Court Judge Richard T. of Sandusky, former state representative. Republican, Paul M. Herbert of Columbus, former five-term lieutenant governor, over Willard D. Campbell of Columbus, former Guernsey County prosecutor. Common Pleas Court Judge and state senator.

Scioto Fire Levy, Darby Overlap Pass

The one-half mill levy for the purpose of providing fire protection in Scioto Twp. passed by a 129-105 margin.

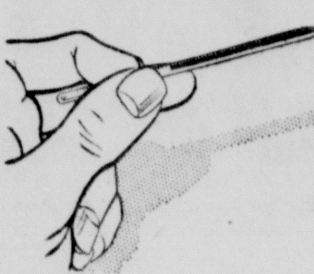

The levy will be on the real estate tax statements for five years.

Scioto South reported a deadlock on the levy according to unofficial returns with the 110 votes cast split down the middle — 55 for and 55 against.

The levy carried Scioto north 40-31 and Commercial Point returns showed a 34-29 affirmative vote.

The overlap of the three-mill operating levy for Southwestern City School District, Franklin County, which affected a few voters in Darby Twp. passed by a 9-3 vote.

Ashville News Report By Mrs. Arthur Deal Jr. Phone YU 3-6111

The Ashville Community Club met Monday evening, April 30, in the Community Shelter House for a weiner and sauerkraut dinner cooked by the committee.

Following dinner a business meeting was conducted by Bud Glitt, president. It was suggested that a trip to the World's Fair, in the state of Washington, be given as the prize for the club's 4th of July award.

A representative from Successful Sales Co. of Toledo was on hand to show the club different ways of making money at the 4th celebration. This matter was tabled until a later meeting.

The club voted to give $100 to the Teays Valley Little League towards the purchase of equipment.

Wade Canter, told of meeting with the Pickaway County Historical Society and the County Commissioners on the disposing of the covered bridge near Ashville. He was told that the club had first chance on preserving the bridge but must furnish manpower and trucks to remove the lumber from the bridge when the demolition starts. It is the hope of the club members to reconstruct or build a replica of this bridge in the Ashville Community Park to be used as a shelter house.

The next dinner meeting will be held May 28 with the place to be announced at a later date. The committee in charge of the dinner for this month was Russell Reid, Bud Glitt, and Virgil Waldon.

The Teays Valley Athletic Boosters Club met Monday evening in the Scioto Township School. The main item of business was the election of officers for the new year. Those elected were as follows: Joe Haines, president; Roy Binion, vice-president; Mrs. Russell Younkin, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Hoover, treasurer.

Trustees elected were: 3 years — Ed Pritchard, Harold Gulick, and Bob Hoover; 2 years — Charles Young, Jim Wheeler, and Don Coon; and 1 year — Bob Prindle, Sheldon Roof, and Ramon Bullock.

The club decided to continue the monthly meeting through the summer months. They also will sponsor monthly card parties to be held the second Saturday of each month starting in June. They will sponsor a card party this month on Saturday evening, May 26 in the Ashville School Auditorium.

Marion Waites, football coach, asked for equipment to be used for training and practice on the football field. The club voted to purchase material and build this equipment themselves.

The membership drive is being conducted at this time by members of the organization. Families in the new Teays Valley High School District are urged to buy membership to this club and help support them in the new school.

The next scheduled meeting is for June 4 at Ashville High School.

Miss Nelle Oesterle, advisor for the Future Teachers Association in the Ashville High School, has announced the assignments for this Thursday when students of the organization will teach in the Ashville, South Bloomfield, and Duval Grade Schools.

The assignments are as follows for Ashville: Mrs. Earl Boyers, Marty Young, Ann Shirey, Mrs. Claude Krafts, Katharine Gardner and Janet LeMaster all grade one; Sandy Trimble and Beverly Johnson, grade two; Nancy Featheringham and Janet Bausum, group was divided into four teams and sent on a scavenger hunt. The first team to arrive back with all of their articles were Mr. and Mrs. William Trimble, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sark, and Mr. and Mrs. Russ Gregg.

When all teams returned a weiner roast was enjoyed around the large fire. The hostesses served homemade ice cream, cookies, and lemonade to the group.

Those attending were Rev. Carter, Charles Trone, Dudley Rader, Mr. and Mrs. Trimble, Mr. and Mrs. Sark, Mr. and Mrs. Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. Gaylor Pobst, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rife, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Peters, Miss Alberna Rinehart, and hostesses, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Purcell, Mrs. William Miller, Mrs. Taylor Lutz, and Mr. and Mrs. Deal.

Joanne Pobst, 5 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylor Pobst, Route 2, Ashville, underwent tests this past week in Children's Hospital, Columbus. She was entered on Wednesday and was returned home Saturday. She will be returned in the near future to undergo heart surgery.

There will be an organizational meeting of those persons interested in being in a Band Boosters Club for Teays Valley High School at Walnut High School, Thursday evening at 8 p. m.

Prior to this meeting band members from each high school are to have elected one parent to work with Mary Jo Gaskalla, music director for the school, on a uniform committee.

All band parents and other interested adults are encouraged to attend this meeting.

On Thursday evening the Mother-Daughter Banquet will be held at the Evangelical United Brethren Church starting at 6:30 p. m. Ladies of the church will prepare the meal and the men of the church will serve it. A program will follow the banquet.

The Everfaithful Class of the E.U.B. Church has cancelled its meeting that was to be held this Friday evening.

Mrs. Stephen Cook entered Mt. Carmel Hospital Saturday where she is undergoing treatment for an abscess on the eye.

Many rehearsals have been underway the past few weeks preparing for the "Band Spectacular", to be presented by the instrumental department of Ashville High School, under the direction of Ray Seelbinder.

The show will be presented the night of Thursday, May 17 starting at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The popular dancing teacher, Jack Sherick, and his wife, Betty, have been rehearsing with different groups on dance routines. A Military Dance will be presented by several men of the community with the band and Nancy Featheringham, Patty Roby, and Diane Custer are learning a dance routine to be used with the "Teddy Bear Picnic".

Members of the band have been selling tickets from door to door. If you have been missed you may purchase them by contacting one of them. Tickets will also be on sale at the door the evening of the performance.

For an evening of fun and entertainment you will want to be sure and attend and support the children of the community, who will take part in this program.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylor Pobst, Route 2, Ashville, attended the annual banquet of the Newark Motor Freight at Ilonka's Party Home in Columbus Saturday evening. Pobst was awarded a 10-year service award pin as being a truck driver for the company.

Family Fellowship Night will be observed Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m. in the Ashville Methodist Church with all families of the church invited to attend and take part in an evening of fun. Mothers' Day will be observed with the oldest mother, youngest mother, and the mother with the most living children being honored. Also receiving honors will be the graduating seniors.

Mrs. Stella Morrison has been asked once again to plan for the recreation for the evening. Refreshments will be served at the close of the evening.

The Ashville - Harrison Volunteer Fire Department answered a call Saturday night at 10:38 p. m. to the Farm Bureau Dehydrator Plant on Route 104 to extinguish a blaze in the Pellet Room roof and back wall. Damage was listed at $250. Cause unknown.

Mrs. Everett Seeds returned home Monday, April 30, after undergoing surgery in Mt. Carmel Hospital. She is able to be up a little each day.

Jeff Trimble, son of Sgt. and Mrs. William Trimble, spent the past week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dietz of Akron. The Dietzs returned him home Friday and spend the weekend with the Trimbles.

Mr. and Mrs. Desmar Spangler

have purchased a home at Buckeye Lake and will be moving there in the near future. Mr. and Mrs. Olin Tussing have purchased the Spangler property on Scioto St. and will be moving their family there soon.

Temperature Taking Important

Q. I have read that rheumatic fever develops after a child has had strep throat. How can a parent tell the difference between strep throat and an ordinary, harmless sore throat?

A. The parent can't be sure but here are some helpful suggestions: Fever and sore throat are two symptoms that should warn the parent of the possibility of streptococcal infection. Whenever a child does not seem up to par, take his temperature four times daily. This is especially important if the child complains of a "scratchy" or sore throat. If fever is present (temperature by mouth of 101°F. or more) a physician should be consulted.

Q. Does the color of the eyes change with age?

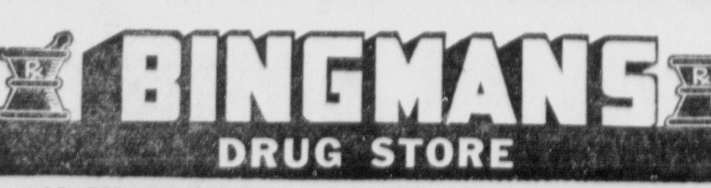

A. Yes. Many children are born with blue eyes which may darken in the first few months of life to hazel or brown. There is also a tendency for darkening to continue slowly in adult life.

Q. Is it true that salt substitutes are detrimental to health?

A. No. As we have previously pointed out in replying to this question, salt substitutes now on the market are considered perfectly safe.

Questions directed to Science Editors, P. O. Box 1174, Louisville 1, Ky. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

The club voted to give $100 to the Teays Valley Little League towards the purchase of equipment.

Wade Canter, told of meeting with the Pickaway County Historical Society and the County Commissioners on the disposing of the covered bridge near Ashville. He was told that the club had first chance on preserving the bridge but must furnish manpower and trucks to remove the lumber from the bridge when the demolition starts. It is the hope of the club members to reconstruct or build a replica of this bridge in the Ashville Community Park to be used as a shelter house.

The next dinner meeting will be held May 28 with the place to be announced at a later date. The committee in charge of the dinner for this month was Russell Reid, Bud Glitt, and Virgil Waldon.

The Teays Valley Athletic Boosters Club met Monday evening in the Scioto Township School. The main item of business was the election of officers for the new year. Those elected were as follows: Joe Haines, president; Roy Binion, vice-president; Mrs. Russell Younkin, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Hoover, treasurer.

Trustees elected were: 3 years — Ed Pritchard, Harold Gulick, and Bob Hoover; 2 years — Charles Young, Jim Wheeler, and Don Coon; and 1 year — Bob Prindle, Sheldon Roof, and Ramon Bullock.

The club decided to continue the monthly meeting through the summer months. They also will sponsor monthly card parties to be held the second Saturday of each month starting in June. They will sponsor a card party this month on Saturday evening, May 26 in the Ashville School Auditorium.

Marion Waites, football coach, asked for equipment to be used for training and practice on the football field. The club voted to purchase material and build this equipment themselves.

The membership drive is being conducted at this time by members of the organization. Families in the new Teays Valley High School District are urged to buy membership to this club and help support them in the new school.

The next scheduled meeting is for June 4 at Ashville High School.

Miss Nelle Oesterle, advisor for the Future Teachers Association in the Ashville High School, has announced the assignments for this Thursday when students of the organization will teach in the Ashville, South Bloomfield, and Duval Grade Schools.

The assignments are as follows for Ashville: Mrs. Earl Boyers, Marty Young, Ann Shirey, Mrs. Claude Krafts, Katharine Gardner and Janet LeMaster all grade one; Sandy Trimble and Beverly Johnson, grade two; Nancy Featheringham and Janet Bausum, grade three; Judy Moss and Barbara Barch, grade four; Kathy Stout and Carol Wylie, grade five; Kathy Courtright and Ellen Snyder, grade six; Mrs. Felix Dore's 7th grade, Ervin Wheeler and Ron Younkin; Lawrence Fullen's 7th grade, Tom Rathburn and Weston Flierl; Leland Johnson's 8th grade, Luther Schwalbach and Tom Cline; and Edwin Irwins 8th Grade, David Newton and Charles Frank.

Assigned to Duval are Sharlene Lowe and Marilyn Hay and to South Bloomfield, Verna Reynolds.

Members of the Ashville Methodist Fellowship Class met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Deal, Jr., Sunday evening for a scavenger hunt and weiner roast.

Upon arriving the group held a discussion around the camp fire. Acting as moderator was Mrs. William Trimble. She opened the program with the poem, "The Stick - Together Family". Being National Family Week a group discussion was held on "The Christian Family and Rapid Social Change". Panel members giving their views were Rev. William Carter as a minister; Russ Gregg as a teacher; and Mrs. Chester Peters as a parent.

Following the discussion the group was divided into four teams and sent on a scavenger hunt. The first team to arrive back with all of their articles were Mr. and Mrs. William Trimble, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sark, and Mr. and Mrs. Russ Gregg.

When all teams returned a weiner roast was enjoyed around the large fire. The hostesses served homemade ice cream, cookies, and lemonade to the group.

Those attending were Rev. Carter, Charles Trone, Dudley Rader, Mr. and Mrs. Trimble, Mr. and Mrs. Sark, Mr. and Mrs. Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. Gaylor Pobst, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rife, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Peters, Miss Alberna Rinehart, and hostesses, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Purcell, Mrs. William Miller, Mrs. Taylor Lutz, and Mr. and Mrs. Deal.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Sliwinski, 44 Park St., Ashville, attended the 64th annual convention of the Ohio Osteopathic and Surgeons Sunday through Thursday of this week at the Neil House, Columbus. Dr. Sliwinski is presently serving on the Ohio Board of Directors.

Richard C. Longacre of Ashville was recently notified by the Ohio Supreme Court that he was among the 112 who passed the state bar examination held in March.

Longacre has been associated with Harry Margulis, a local attorney, for the past year. He and his wife, Carol, are residents of Ashville.

The Teays Valley Little League managers, officers, umpires, and all other interested persons will meet this Thursday evening in the Ashville Elementary School Building at 7:30 p. m.

The Hedges Chapel Methodist Church Christ's Growing Circle Class will meet Saturday evening at 8 p. m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Toodle's.

Joanne Pobst, 5 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylor Pobst, Route 2, Ashville, underwent tests this past week in Children's Hospital, Columbus. She was entered on Wednesday and was returned home Saturday. She will be returning in the near future to undergo heart surgery.

There will be an organizational meeting of those persons interested in being in a Band Boosters Club for Teays Valley High School at Walnut High School, Thursday evening at 8 p. m.

Prior to this meeting band members from each high school are to have elected one parent to work with Mary Jo Gaskalla, music director for the school, on a uniform committee.

All band parents and other interested adults are encouraged to attend this meeting.

On Thursday evening the Mother-Daughter Banquet will be held at the Evangelical United Brethren Church starting at 6:30 p. m. Ladies of the church will prepare the meal and the men of the church will serve it. A program will follow the banquet.

The Everfaithful Class of the E.U.B. Church has cancelled its meeting that was to be held this Friday evening.

Mrs. Stephen Cook entered Mt. Carmel Hospital Saturday where she is undergoing treatment for an abscess on the eye.

Many rehearsals have been underway the past few weeks preparing for the "Band Spectacular", to be presented by the instrumental department of Ashville High School, under the direction of Ray Seelbinder.

The show will be presented the night of Thursday, May 17 starting at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The popular dancing teacher, Jack Sherick, and his wife, Betty, have been rehearsing with different groups on dance routines. A Military Dance will be presented by several men of the community with the band and Nancy Featheringham, Patty Roby, and Diane Custer are learning a dance routine to be used with the "Teddy Bear Picnic".

Members of the band have been selling tickets from door to door. If you have been missed you may purchase them by contacting one of them. Tickets will also be on sale at the door the evening of the performance.

For an evening of fun and entertainment you will want to be sure and attend and support the children of the community, who will take part in this program.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylor Pobst, Route 2, Ashville, attended the annual banquet of the Newark Motor Freight at Ilonka's Party Home in Columbus Saturday evening.

Pobst was awarded a 10-year service award pin as being a truck driver for the company.

Family Fellowship Night will be observed Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m. in the Ashville Methodist Church with all families of the church invited to attend and take part in an evening of fun. Mothers' Day will be observed with the oldest mother, youngest mother, and the mother with the most living children being honored. Also receiving honors will be the graduating seniors.

Mrs. Stella Morrison has been asked once again to plan for the recreation for the evening. Refreshments will be served at the close of the evening.

The Ashville - Harrison Volunteer Fire Department answered a call Saturday night at 10:38 p. m. to the Farm Bureau Dehydrator Plant on Route 104 to extinguish a blaze in the Pellet Room roof and back wall. Damage was listed at $250. Cause unknown.

Mrs. Everett Seeds returned home Monday, April 30, after undergoing surgery in Mt. Carmel Hospital. She is able to be up a little each day.

Jeff Trimble, son of Sgt. and Mrs. William Trimble, spent the past week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dietz of Akron. The Dietzs' returned him home Friday and spend the weekend with the Trimbles.

Mr. and Mrs. Desmar Spangler

have purchased a home at Buckeye Lake and will be moving there in the near future. Mr. and Mrs. Olin Tussing have purchased the Spangler property on Scioto St. and will be moving their family there soon.

Laos Reds Put Pressure on Rightist

TOKYO (AP)—The Laotian pro-Communists have served notice on stubborn rightist Gen. Phoumi Nossavan that he had better join a coalition government or take the military consequences.

This appears to be the clear message behind the Pathet Lao's capture of the northwestern provincial capital of Nam Tha from Phoumi's forces.

The Communists in Laos, as elsewhere, use military measures for political purposes. They would not have flouted the cease-fire so openly if they did not believe that Nam Tha could be employed as a powerful lever on the intransigent Phoumi.

Phoumi, vice premier of the Vientiane government and the man who actually pulls the strings, has refused to give up the key ministries of Defense and Interior in the proposed coalition government of rightist, neutralists and pro-Communists to be headed by neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma.

The United States, which is committed to the coalition formula, is pressuring Phoumi to withdraw his objections. U.S. financial aid has been withheld from the Vientiane government. But the general's answer has been to go off with front-man Premier Boun Oum on an aid-begging trip to various Asian countries.

In taking Nam Tha, the Pathet Lao has not necessarily reopened the civil war in earnest. It appears to have left the door carefully ajar to new negotiations by dispatching neutralist Gen. Kong

Le on a junket to Moscow. With Souvanna Phouma in Europe, the Pathet Lao seems to have gone to some pains to picture the neutralists with clean hands as far as Nam Tha is concerned. They have not been identified as having taken part in the assault on the town.

The comparative ease with which the Pathet Lao seized Nam Tha—it fell after only six hours of artillery bombardment and fighting—is a sharp reminder that they, and not Phoumi's troops, were on the offensive and winning when the major powers brought about a cease-fire last year.

The Kennedy administration feels that a coalition government in Laos headed by neutralist Souvanna Phouma is the best of a series of bad choices.

The alternatives would be abandoning Laos to the Communists entirely or moving in a big U.S. expeditionary force that would be fighting not only an elusive enemy but some of the most inhospitable terrain on earth.

Red Cross Nurse Is Named in Will

CINCINNATI (AP)—Miss Jo Skidmore is due to inherit $500. The money was left to her by Mrs. Charlotte ToeWater, whose will was probated Monday. In the will, dated 1950, Mrs. ToeWater made the cash bequest to "Miss Jo Skidmore, an American Red Cross nurse who was kind to my son, F. R. ToeWater, after he was injured in the recent war."

Attorneys for the estate said Mrs. ToeWater's son was fatally wounded in the Battle of the Bulge during World War II. They said they were trying to trace Miss Skidmore through the Red Cross.

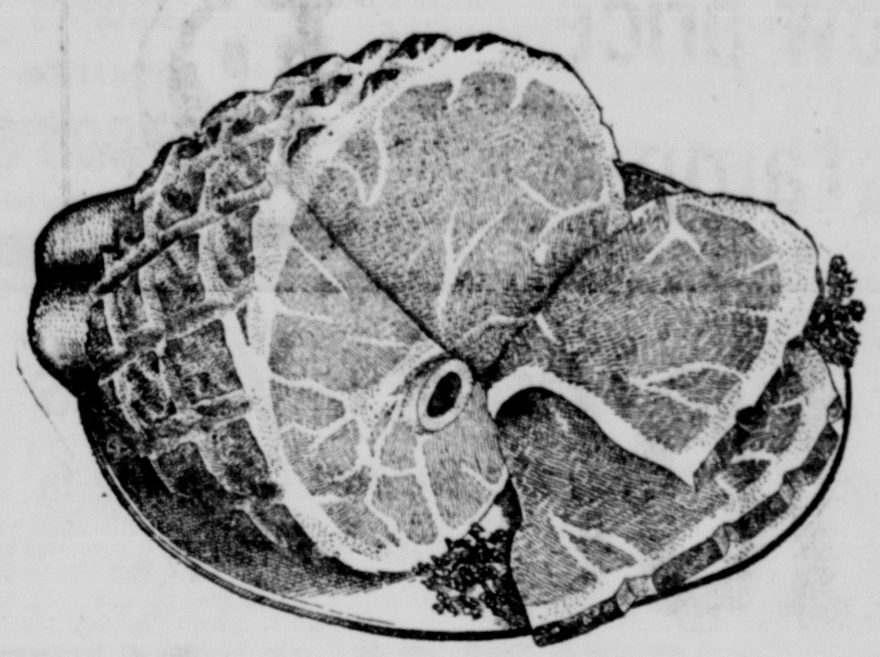

Mrs. ToeWater died April 23.

Nine years: Lois Jones and Mary Stevens.

Wesley C. Nibert will be recognized and presented with an award for 32 years of service.

National Hospital Week

Doctor's Little Black Bag Has Different Path Today

The doctor's little black bag — the traditional symbol of American medicine — follows a different path today than it did 50 years ago.

Then it made most of its trips between the doctor's office and the patient's home. Today it travels most frequently between the office and the hospital.

"The little black bag's altered path illustrates the changing patterns of medical practice, the trend toward centralizing medical care in the hospital," Miss Ellen Leist, R.N., superintendent of Berger Hospital, said today.

Medical care has shifted from the home to the hospital and with this move, a new ingredient has been added to patient care — a highly technical method resulting from the scientific revolution of the 20th century, Miss Leist stated.

The combination of science and individual patient care is the theme of National Hospital Week being observed across the nation this week. This observance, originally celebrated as National Hospital Day, has been marked annually since 1953.

Sponsored by the American Hospital Association, it is held each year during the week of Florence Nightingale's birthday which falls on May 12. The contents of the doctors' little black bag have changed only slightly in the last 50 years, but the changes again illustrate the trend toward the hospital, Miss Leist said. Added to the bag are some new drugs, particularly antibiotics and stimulants for starting stopped-hearts.

Subtracted are the equipment and instruments the doctor used at the patient's home for surgery, obstetrics and emergency treatment of injuries. Nowadays, the doctor admits surgical and obstetrical patients to the hospital and meets the injured patient at the hospital's emergency room.

The hospital has indeed become the community's center for health care. In the past 50 years, it has added laboratories, diagnostic x-ray machines, cobalt units, pharmacies and a host of other facilities necessary for the patient's recovery. As new scientific equipment is developed and proven effective, it is added by hospitals to help save lives and combat disease. This dramatic progress has meant added years of life for many persons.

"Just as every medical service provided in the patient's home was accompanied by the individual care and attention of the doctor, every hospital service is administered individually to meet the needs of each patient," Miss Leist commented. Hospital people are highly trained to provide the exact treatment or medication the doctor prescribes.

"Individual concern for each patient is synonymous with hospital care," Miss Leist said. The scientific services are necessary for the patient's speedy recovery, but hospitals also recognize the patient's need for emotional support. Hospital people strive to provide this support by means of individual and personal services for patients and their families. Hospitals are adding many services which make each patient's recuperation more pleasant.

The care provided in today's hospitals, scientifically exceeds that provided from the little black bag of 50 years ago, but the "tender loving care" which accompanied the doctor's visit is also still present in the hospital.

In conclusion, Miss Leist observed, "This combination of personal interest and scientific advances found in our hospital is summed up in this year's National Hospital Week theme — 'Your Hospital — Uniting Service and Patient Care.'"

Ratio Plan for Teachers Put in Effect

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Board of Education has adopted a new teachers' salary schedule that eventually will mean raises averaging $300 yearly for the 5,000 teachers in the school system.

The board approved the new setup Monday. It will cost an estimated $1.5 million annually when it takes full effect. It will be effective in September 1962, but raises will be made gradually until 1967.

The new plan sets up standard yearly increments and puts the entire schedule on a ratio system. Based on 1 for a starting teacher with a bachelor's degree, these ratios range from .82 for a beginning teacher with no degree to 1.79 for a master's degree and 16 years' experience.

Under the new plan, a raise in the starting pay will automatically mean raises along the line. No changes were made in the $5,000 yearly minimum for starting teachers with bachelor's degrees or the $8,950 maximum for teachers' with master's degrees. Spokesmen for the Cleveland

Education Association (CEA) and the Cleveland Teachers Union (AFL-CIO) hailed the ratio plan. The CEA had pushed for the new setup.

Awards Dinner Due at Berger

Berger Hospital's Board of Governors will host the annual Service Awards Dinner for hospital employees at the Pickaway Country Club tonight.

The annual event will get under way with a cocktail hour in the early evening and will be followed with a dinner. Service award pins will be presented to hospital personnel in recognition of their individual years of service.

Pins to be awarded will include:
One year: Dorothy Pritchard, Sue Conway, Edith Jones, Vera Smith, Ethel Hoover, Nancy Myers, Mary K. Schneider, Arthur Bremer, Sarah Winner, Betty Heath, Elaine Poling, Marilyn Roll, Virginia Wilson, Eleanor Wilson, Lois Ann Sherman, Barbara Henn, Francine Peters, Rita Blubaugh.

TWO YEARS: Ruth Williams, Frances Cupp, Charlotte Hart, Margaret Anderson, Patricia Yates, Leona Binkley and Bonnie Rector.

Three years: Dorothy Shoemaker, Martha Curry, Bertha Eitel, Laura Hatfield, Dorothy Mogan, Jeannette Armstrong, Ruth Had-dox and Clarice Lee.

Four years: Ralph Altmeyer, Daisy Karleskint, Ardis Dickerson, Marjorie Rhoads, Virginia Davis, Marguerite Wilson, Jane Adams, Mabel Baldwin, Sadie Hick-ey, Kathryn Adams, Helen Wright, Elaine Cook, Olympia Crawford and Ellen A. Leist.

Five years: Eunice Lauerman, Eugene Hunt, William Wilkin-son, Dorothy Knecht and Eva Johnson.

Service pins will be awarded to the following members of the Old Timers' Club for five or more years of service:

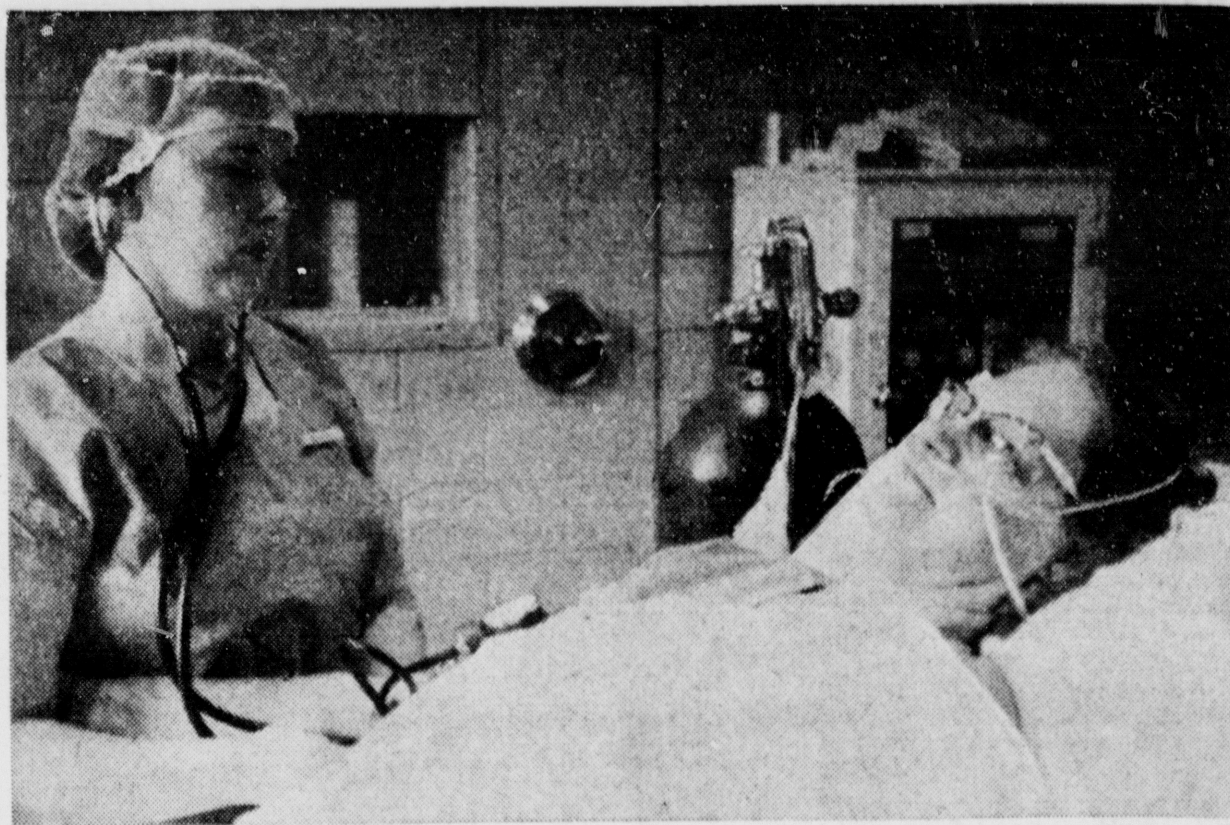

Six years: Dolly Leist, Elizabeth Taffe and Florence Valentine.

Seven years: Irene Bell, Paul Roan, Vivian Hudnell, Gladys Robinson, Edna Teets, Mary Denman, Mary Stevenson, Airie Chilcote and Bernese Rader.

EIGHT years: Laura Rector and Betty J. Davis.

Nine years: Lois Jones and Mary Stevens.

Wesley C. Nibert will be recognized and presented with an award for 32 years of service.

National Hospital Week

Doctor's Little Black Bag Has Different Path Today

The doctor's little black bag — the traditional symbol of American medicine — follows a different path today than it did 50 years ago.

Then it made most of its trips between the doctor's office and the patient's home. Today it travels most frequently between the office and the hospital.

"The little black bag's altered path illustrates the changing pattern of medical practice, the trend toward centralizing medical care in the hospital," Miss Ellen Leist, RN, superintendent of Berger Hospital, said today.

Medical care has shifted from the home to the hospital and with this move, a new ingredient has been added to patient care — a highly technical method resulting from the scientific revolution of the 20th century, Miss Leist stated.

The combination of science and individual patient care is the theme of National Hospital Week being observed across the nation this week. This observance, originally celebrated as National Hospital Day, has been marked annually since 1953.

Sponsored by the American Hospital Association, it is held each year during the week of Florence Nightingale's birthday which falls on May 12. The contents of the doctors' little black bag have changed only slightly in the last 50 years, but the changes again illustrate the trend toward the hospital, Miss Leist said. Added to the bag are some new drugs, particularly antibiotics and stimulants for starting stopped-hearts.

Subtracted are the equipment and instruments the doctor used at the patient's home for surgery, obstetrics and emergency treatment of injuries. Nowadays, the doctor admits surgical and obstetrical patients to the hospital and meets the injured patient at the hospital's emergency room.

The hospital has indeed become the community's center for health care. In the past 50 years, it has added laboratories, diagnostic x-ray machines, cobalt units, pharmacies and a host of other facilities necessary for the patient's recovery. As new scientific equipment is developed and proven effective, it is added by hospitals to help save lives and combat disease. This dramatic progress has meant added years of life for many persons.

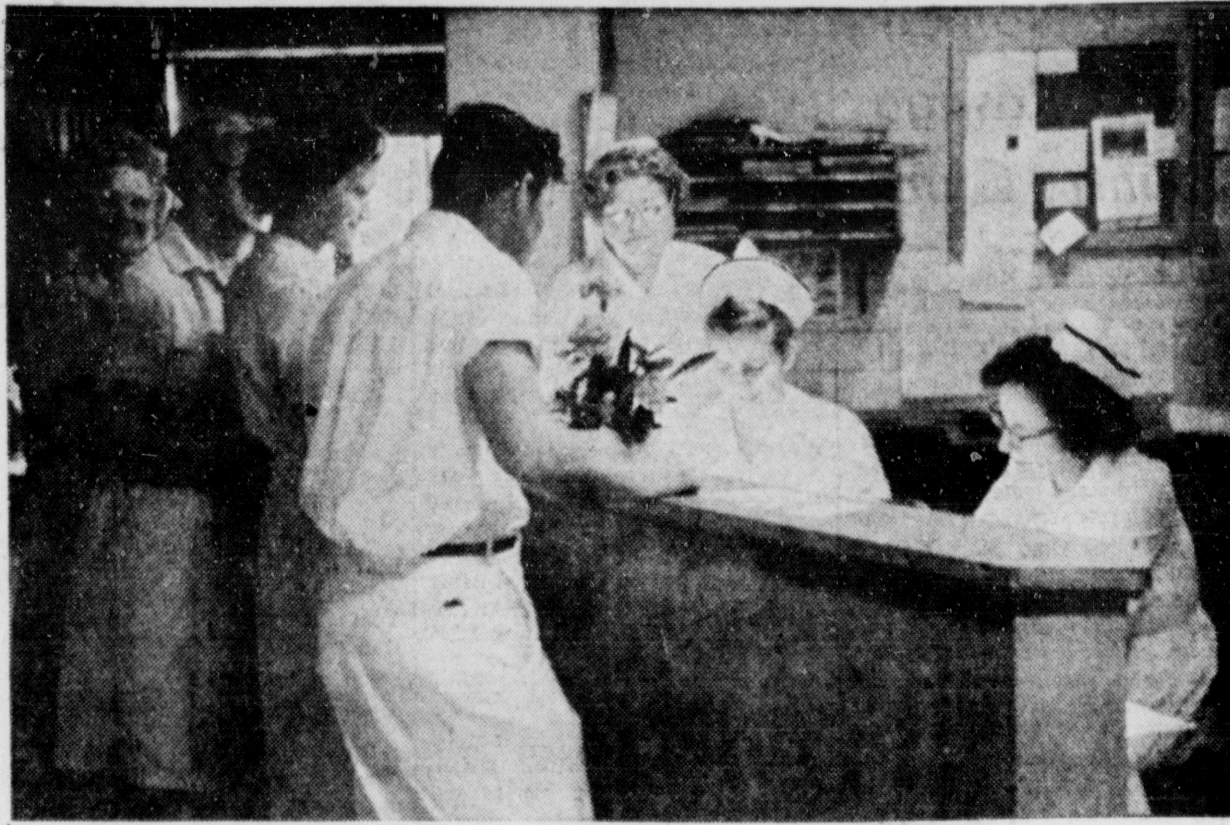

"Just as every medical service provided in the patient's home was accompanied by the individual care and attention of the doctor, every hospital service is administered individually to meet the needs of each patient," Miss Leist commented. Hospital people are highly trained to provide the exact treatment or medication the doctor prescribes.

"Individual concern for each patient is synonymous with hospital care," Miss Leist said. The scientific services are necessary for the patient's speedy recovery, but hospitals also recognize the patient's need for emotional support. Hospital people strive to provide this support by means of individual and personal services for patients and their families. Hospitals are adding many services which make each patient's recuperation more pleasant.

The care provided in today's hospitals, scientifically exceeds that provided from the little black bag of 50 years ago, but the "tender loving care" which accompanied the doctor's visit is also still present in the hospital.

In conclusion, Miss Leist observed, "This combination of personal interest and scientific advances found in our hospital is summed up in this year's National Hospital Week theme — 'Your Hospital — Uniting Service and Patient Care.'"

Ratio Plan for Teachers Put in Effect

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Board of Education has adopted a new teachers' salary schedule that eventually will mean raises averaging $300 yearly for the 5,000 teachers in the school system.

The board approved the new setup Monday. It will cost an estimated $1.5 million annually when it takes full effect. It will be effective in September 1962, but raises will be made gradually until 1967.

The new plan sets up standard yearly increments and puts the entire schedule on a ratio system. Based on 1 for a starting teacher with a bachelor's degree, these ratios range from .82 for a beginning teacher with no degree to 1.79 for a master's degree and 16 years' experience.

Under the new plan, a raise in the starting pay will automatically mean raises along the line. No changes were made in the $5,000 yearly minimum for starting teachers with bachelor's degrees or the $8,950 maximum for teachers' with master's degrees.

Spokesmen for the Cleveland

Education Association (CEA) and the Cleveland Teachers Union (AFL-CIO) hailed the ratio plan. The CEA had pushed for the new setup.

Stengel Tells How He Evaluates Pitchers

CHICAGO (AP)—Casey Stengel peered out of the dugout at Wrigley Field—the first time he had been there since leading his old Boston Braves against the Chicago Cubs in 1943.

"Must be a dozen fans up in the stands," said the New York Mets skipper.

The opening of the three-game series—the battle of the National League cellar—actually drew 1,396 customers Tuesday.

Dr. John Bateman, head football coach at undefeated Rutgers, is slated to be the principal speaker.

Coaches John Adler, Jim Lint, Jim Shaw and Benhase attended the Ohio State Football clinic last Friday and Saturday where Abe Martin of Texas Christian University was the main speaker.

ner but a little slower and surer before he pulls the trigger, has come up with a pair of key additions to the Indians in pitcher Dick Donovan and outfielder Willie Tasby.

The often peddled players, both acquired from Washington, carried the Indians to a 6-3 triumph over Minnesota Tuesday night that pulled second-place Cleveland to within one game of the American League leading New York Yankees.

Paul, who previously pulled the strings in Cincinnati, got Donovan in the trade that sent Jim Piersall to Washington and raised a howl from Cleveland fans.

Donovan aided his own cause with a bases-loaded single that accounted for one run before Tasby stroked his hit for the decisive run.

Tasby's clincher provided Donovan with his fifth victory without a loss. The 34-year-old right-hander, who led the AL with a 2.40 earned run average while posting a 10-10 record last season, is the first hurler in the league to win five.

Al Kaline drove in four runs with his eighth homer, a triple and a single, leading Detroit to a 10-1 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels in the only other game played.

a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, boosting their lead to four games.

To gain the narrow win, the Giants had to beat Larry Jackson, who had whipped them eight straight times over a two-season span, and withstand some late Cardinal trouble.

Los Angeles counter-rallied against Houston for a 9-6 decision in 10 innings, Philadelphia beat Cincinnati 6-4 and New York's Mets got out of last place for the first time in their young history and shoved Chicago into the cellar, downing the Cubs 3-1.

Houk Picks Cleveland as Toughest Foe

NEW YORK (AP)—Manager Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees surveyed the rest of the American League from the summit today and predicted that the Cleveland Indians would remain one of the top contenders the rest of the season.

"They didn't figure high in the beginning," Houk said, "but they do now. I like those two kids in the outfield, Ty Cline and Al Luplow. They have a solid infield and John Romano is a good catcher.

Then Houk laughed: "I see where Al Lopez says only his own Chicago White Sox and the Detroit Tigers might be able to stop the Yanks. Wait until he sees the Indians. He's in for a shock."

The White Sox haven't played the Indians yet. The Tribe holds down second place, a game behind the Yanks after beating the Minnesota Twins Tuesday night, 6-3.

Philly Chief Feels Better As Reds Fall

CINCINNATI (AP)—"We're a much better club than we were last season," said Gene Mauch after his Philadelphia Phillies had demonstrated their talents at Cincinnati's expense Tuesday night.

"We're scoring a lot more, but like a number of other clubs we could use more pitching."

Everything went right for the Phils Tuesday night in a 6-4 victory over the National League champs.

The Reds outhit Philadelphia 15-10, but they left 16 men stranded on base—only two under the National League mark.

The Phils made three miscues in defense, yet they put over three double plays when the going got hot.

The victory was the sixth of the last seven games played by Philadelphia and it was the second of the season over Cincinnati.

The Reds' Bob Purkey was slated to oppose Art Mahaffey of Philadelphia tonight.

LONDON (AP)—Star auto race driver Stirling Moss suffered such severe brain injuries in his April 23 crashup that it may end his racing career, a hospital report implied today.

"Now that the conscious level is so much improved and he has quite lengthy and lucid periods, it is possible to say with certainty that he has a marked weakness of the whole of the left side of the body, involving race, arm and leg," the hospital said.

"There is a possibility that full recovery of the functions in the arm and leg will not take place," the report added.

Old Casey Gives Views

Stengel Tells How He Evaluates Pitchers

CHICAGO (AP)—Casey Stengel peered out of the dugout at Wrigley Field—the first time he had been there since leading his old Boston Braves against the Chicago Cubs in 1943.

"Must be a dozen fans up in the stands," said the New York Mets skipper. "Must be the cold weather. It couldn't be because the Cubs are playing us."

The opening of the three-game series—the battle of the National League cellar—actually drew 1,396 customers Tuesday. It was the smallest Wrigley Field gathering of the season.

The Cubs disappointed them by losing 3-1 as Jay Hook stifled them on four hits in his second route-going job.

Before the game, Stengel spell-bound a large delegation of newsmen, who filled the visiting dugout as if it were World Series time.

"I just met my two new pitchers (Vinegar Bend Mizell and Bob G. Miller) and this is what I said to them: 'Miller, how many innings you pitched?' He looked at me and said: 'Three or four.' I said: 'I guess you are ready for us anyway, so now you can consider yourself one of my early starters.'"

"I said to Mizell: 'Can you pitch?' He said: 'Yes.' I said: 'OK, you pitch for us here in the last game of the series.'"

"So, you see, we all got acquainted real quick."

"Our pitching staff is really shattered and I always have a lot of re-arranging to do. Some people think I have 10 starters, but actually there are only three—Hook, Craig (Roger) and Jackson (Al)."

"And that brings me to training. We spent a lot of money getting players, and if they don't pan out after 30 or 35 days we'll get rid of some of them and may get a new batch. Any player who doesn't want to train or play for me can go to Weiss (George Weiss, general manager) or me and ask to be traded. They might go, or they might find themselves in the minors for more conditioning."

Stengel said he would like to see the Cubs win the pennant.

Tribe Closes Gap on Yanks

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Cleveland Indians were within a game of the league-leading New York Yankees today, and Dick Donovan had his fifth victory against no losses—a 6-3 conquest of the hard-hitting Minnesota Twins.

Donovan halted the Twins four-game winning string at a time when adding to it would have lifted the Minnesotans into a virtual tie with the Indians for second place. Now the home club will have to win tonight and Thursday afternoon to move up.

For eight innings last night Donovan yielded only seven hits, including a run-producing single by Rich Rollins of Parma, Ohio, in the fifth.

The Indians scored pairs of runs in the third, seventh and ninth.

Paul, who previously pulled the strings in Cincinnati, got Donovan in the trade that sent Jim Piersall to Washington and raised a howl from Cleveland fans. He picked up Tasby for two lesser lights in a deal that raised not an eyebrow.

But Tasby raised a couple against the Twins. The 29-year-old righty swinger who hit .251 last season, made his first start for the Indians and responded with a 2-for-5 performance, knocking in three runs, including what proved to be the clincher in a two-run seventh inning.

Donovan added his own cause with a bases-loaded single that accounted for one run before Tasby stroked his hit for the decisive run.

Tasby's clincher provided Donovan with his fifth victory without a loss. The 34-year-old right-hander, who led the AL with a 2.40 earned run average while posting a 10-10 record last season, is the first hurler in the league to win five.

Al Kaline drove in four runs with his eighth homer, a triple and a single, leading Detroit to a 10-1 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels in the only other game played. Boston-New York, Kansas City-Baltimore, Chicago-Washington were postponed due to rain.

Donovan had a 6-1 lead going into the ninth when the Twins, with a four-game win streak on the line, began to make menacing gestures. Lennie Green's homer after Bernie Allen single chased Donovan. Reliever Barry Latman gave up singles to Rich Rollins and Harmon Killebrew before ending it by striking out pinch hitter George Banks. Jim Kaat (1-4) was the loser.

While Kaline was providing the hitting, Phil Regan provided solid pitching for the Tigers to snap a five-game losing skid. Regan (2-2) limited the Angels, winners of four in a row, to six hits—one a homer by Steve Bilko. Eli Grba (1-1) took the loss.

San Francisco's surging Giants march on while other National League contenders stand still—or worse. Whatever became of that multiple-team, wire-to-wire pennant race?

Taking on their closest pursuer and an old pitching nemesis Tuesday night the Giants carried away a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, boosting their lead to four games.

To gain the narrow win, the Giants had to beat Larry Jackson, who had whipped them eight straight times over a two-season span, and withstand some late Cardinal trouble. They did both on the tough pitching of Juan Marichal (5-2) and the star hitting of Orlando Cepeda, winning for the 12th time in their last 13 games.

Los Angeles counter-rallied against Houston for a 9-6 decision in 10 innings. Philadelphia beat Cincinnati 6-4 and New York's Mets got out of last place for the first time in their young history and shoved Chicago into the cellar, downing the Cubs 3-1. The Milwaukee Braves and the Pirates were rained out at Milwaukee.

The Phils made three miscues in defense, yet they put over three double plays when the going got hot.

The victory was the sixth of the last seven games played by Philadelphia and it was the second of the season over Cincinnati.

The Reds' Bob Purkey was slated to oppose Art Mahaffey of Philadelphia tonight.

Tasby's clincher provided Donovan with his fifth victory without a loss. The 34-year-old right-hander, who led the AL with a 2.40 earned run average while posting a 10-10 record last season, is the first hurler in the league to win five.

Al Kaline drove in four runs with his eighth homer, a triple and a single, leading Detroit to a 10-1 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels in the only other game played. Boston-New York, Kansas City-Baltimore, Chicago-Washington were postponed due to rain.

Donovan had a 6-1 lead going into the ninth when the Twins, with a four-game win streak on the line, began to make menacing gestures. Lennie Green's homer after Bernie Allen single chased Donovan. Reliever Barry Latman gave up singles to Rich Rollins and Harmon Killebrew before ending it by striking out pinch hitter George Banks. Jim Kaat (1-4) was the loser.

While Kaline was providing the hitting, Phil Regan provided solid pitching for the Tigers to snap a five-game losing skid. Regan (2-2) limited the Angels, winners of four in a row, to six hits—one a homer by Steve Bilko. Eli Grba (1-1) took the loss.

San Francisco's surging Giants march on while other National League contenders stand still—or worse. Whatever became of that multiple-team, wire-to-wire pennant race?

Taking on their closest pursuer and an old pitching nemesis Tuesday night the Giants carried away

a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, boosting their lead to four games.

To gain the narrow win, the Giants had to beat Larry Jackson, who had whipped them eight straight times over a two-season span, and withstand some late Cardinal trouble. They did both on the tough pitching of Juan Marichal (5-2) and the star hitting of Orlando Cepeda, winning for the 12th time in their last 13 games.

Los Angeles counter-rallied against Houston for a 9-6 decision in 10 innings. Philadelphia beat Cincinnati 6-4 and New York's Mets got out of last place for the first time in their young history and shoved Chicago into the cellar, downing the Cubs 3-1. The Milwaukee Braves and the Pirates were rained out at Milwaukee.

The Phils made three miscues in defense, yet they put over three double plays when the going got hot.

The victory was the sixth of the last seven games played by Philadelphia and it was the second of the season over Cincinnati.

The Reds' Bob Purkey was slated to oppose Art Mahaffey of Philadelphia tonight.

ner but a little slower and surer before he pulls the trigger, has come up with a pair of key additions to the Indians in pitcher Dick Donovan and outfielder Willie Tasby.

The often peddled players, both acquired from Washington, carried the Indians to a 6-3 triumph over Minnesota Tuesday night that pulled second-place Cleveland to within one game of the American League leading New York Yankees.

Paul, who previously pulled the strings in Cincinnati, got Donovan in the trade that sent Jim Piersall to Washington and raised a howl from Cleveland fans. He picked up Tasby for two lesser lights in a deal that raised not an eyebrow.

But Tasby raised a couple against the Twins. The 29-year-old righty swinger who hit .251 last season, made his first start for the Indians and responded with a 2-for-5 performance, knocking in three runs, including what proved to be the clincher in a two-run seventh inning.

Donovan added his own cause with a bases-loaded single that accounted for one run before Tasby stroked his hit for the decisive run.

Tasby's clincher provided Donovan with his fifth victory without a loss. The 34-year-old right-hander, who led the AL with a 2.40 earned run average while posting a 10-10 record last season, is the first hurler in the league to win five.

Philly Chief Feels Better As Reds Fall

CINCINNATI (AP)—"We're a much better club than we were last season," said Gene Mauch after his Philadelphia Phillies had demonstrated their talents at Cincinnati's expense Tuesday night.

"We're scoring a lot more, but like a number of other clubs we could use more pitching."

Everything went right for the Phils Tuesday night in a 6-4 victory over the National League champs.

The Reds outthrew Philadelphia 15-10, but they left 16 men stranded on base—only two under the National League mark.

The Phils made three miscues in defense, yet they put over three double plays when the going got hot.

The victory was the sixth of the last seven games played by Philadelphia and it was the second of the season over Cincinnati.

The Reds' Bob Purkey was slated to oppose Art Mahaffey of Philadelphia tonight.

Ohio Rookie Doing Fine with Angeles

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Two members of the Los Angeles Angels' pitching staff enjoyed the greatest days of their baseball careers last weekend: rookies Bo Belinsky and Dean Chance.

Belinsky's feat is sports history: He threw a no-hitter at the Baltimore Orioles Saturday night.

Chance's claim to fame may not mean much to the average fan but to the 20-year-old right-hander from Wooster, Ohio, pitching one inning against the Orioles Friday was just as important.

For in that brief stint the former Northwestern High School star from Wayne County became the pitcher of record and thus earned his first victory in the major leagues.

That initial triumph in an Angel uniform was a long time coming for the rangy, 6-3 fastballer. He appeared in five games as an Angel last year and was strafed for 33 hits in 18 innings for 14 earned runs. He headed home for the winter with an 0-2 record and a 7.00 era.

In four games this season, three as a starter and one in relief, Chance had worked 16 innings, allowed 18 hits for 10 runs and had an era of 3.17. His record was 0-2.

Luck finally caught up with Dean in Chavez Ravine and that elusive No. 1 finally showed up in the win column.

Chance has always been an exceptionally fast hurler and has had excellent control. In high school at Northwestern he posted a fabulous 51-1 record including, 18 no-hit games.

His high school mates rode to the state title on his strong right arm in 1959 as Dean averaged 14 strikeouts a game. He once fanned 19 in a seven-inning affair.

Basketball was more than a hobby for the 200-pounder. . . he was all-state in that sport in 1959 and was all-state in baseball that year, too: in fact with his 16 points a game and 18-20 rebounds per outing, Northwestern won the Ohio Class A title in '59.

Baltimore beat out a host of major league scouts with a contract reportedly in excess of $30,000 when Dean was a senior, is perhaps it's poetic justice he should gain his first victory over the Orioles.

They got rid of him for $75,000 when the Angels were stocked during American League expansion days.

NEW YORK (AP)—Allen Ludden, after two weeks of pondering, came to a painful decision. He will quit "College Bowl" at the end of this season after six years as master-of-ceremonies and stay on with "Password" in its daytime and evening versions.

The decision was forced on Ludden when CBS decided to put the evening edition of "Password" into a Sunday spot next season, separated only by a half-hour from "College Bowl." Sponsor of the latter program felt that, even though "College Bowl" was earlier, the two programs, so close together, might prove a little too much Ludden.

Ludden, who was enthusiastic about his long, happy association with the quiz show, said he "finally decided I should go along with a program that had grown from a daytime game show to a prime-time evening show."

"Password" offers scope, and a challenge," he added. "It has turned me into a fulltime performer. Besides, I'd done the other show for a long time, so it wouldn't prove anything much to me if I did another season of it."

"College Bowl" is busily sorting out applications for Ludden's replacement. Producer John Cleary said that the host doesn't have to be all brain—the difficult questions can be studied in advance, and the big words in the question are spelled phonetically.

Douglas Edwards, who wanted to be released from his CBS contract when the network pulled him out of his evening news show, must feel better about things now. He will be anchorman in a series "news extras" on the network next season—shows which will be CBS' adaptation of NBC's successful series of "instant news specials" anchored by Frank McGee during the past year.

Recommended tonight: Circle Theatre, CBS, 10-11 (EDT)—dramatization of the story of a Cuban journalist who fled the Batista regime and returned to Castro and disillusionment.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the County Commissioners of Pickaway County, Ohio, located in the City of Circleville, Ohio, until 12:00 Noon E.S.T. on Thursday, May 21st, 1962, and at 1:30 P.M. E.S.T. of the same day said proposals will be publicly opened and read for the construction of the roadway, approach, substructure and superstructure for Bridge No. 6, on Road No. 31, being located in Walnut and Harrison Townships, Pickaway County, Ohio.

The successful bidder shall furnish all labor, and materials and equipment necessary to complete the work. All work done and all material furnished shall comply with applicable sections of the Construction and Material Specifications, State of Ohio, Department of Highways in effect on January 1st, 1961, and subject to the approval of the county Engineer.

Plans and Specifications are on file in the office of the County Commissioners and the County Engineer. Proposals are to be submitted on standard proposal forms obtained from the office of the County Engineer. All parties bidding shall deposit with their proposal cash or certified check on some solvent bank in the amount of five per cent (5 per cent) of the bid made payable to said County.

The five per cent (5 per cent) deposit is to be used as liquidated damages in the event the successful bidder fails or refuses to enter into written contract and furnish acceptable bond within ten days from the date of awarding said contract to him.

The Contractor shall employ local labor in performing this work in as far as possible.

The Board of County Commissioners reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

This notice to contractors is in compliance with Sections 153-40 Revised Code of Ohio.

Pro Gridders Study Options

Owens Case Brings Debate on Players

NEW YORK (AP)—The case of R. C. Owens playing out his option with the San Francisco 49ers, then signing with the Baltimore Colts does not worry the National Football League, Commissioner Pete Rozelle indicated today.

"We are not concerned," he shrugged. "The cases of players playing out their options are not unique."

The 6-3, 195-pound Owens, a pass-catching specialist, shopped around both leagues before signing with the Colts. Presumably they made him the best offer.

"Most players prefer to stay in the area where they play and where they have roots, business associates and are active in the community," Rozelle added.

But owner Harry Wismer of the American Football League New York Titans, warning that professional football is pricing itself into bankruptcy, called for a reserve clause similar to that which keeps baseball players on one team unless they are traded or retire.

In pro football, the player merely notifies his club if he wants out of his contract. Then he plays out his option for the next season for 90 per cent of his salary, and he is free.

"The war between the leagues has boosted payrolls 25 per cent," said Wismer. "Now the tug-of-war four players inside the leagues will hike it another 15 per cent. In a majority of cases in both leagues, the players are making more than the owners."

"If Owens can do it, what is to stop Paul Hornung of the Green Bay Packers or Johnny Unitas of the Colts from playing out their options and then putting themselves on the block to the highest bidder?"

Wismer said the players are getting fabulous salaries compared with their actual value.

New York Pacer Cops Feature at Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Carter Creed, an insurgent from New York, paced off the fastest mile of the young Lebanon Raceway meet Tuesday night in 2:05 in the featured eighth race.

With Jim Shafer driving, the 5-year-old scored a half-length finish over Betsy Mite and paid $10.20. Betsy Mite was worth $3.60 and Miss Mike's Counsel returned $7.40 for show.

New Drama Club Is Organized At High School

An initial meeting of a new drama club, "Circleville Curtain Callers", was conducted in the high school auditorium yesterday. Fifty students participated.

Main purpose of this new organization is to co-ordinate speech and dramatics activities in high school.

Two main topics of business were discussed, a constitution was adopted and new officers were elected. Named were Carolyn Walters, president; Larry Plum, vice president; Sheryl Wood, secretary; and James R. Stewart, treasurer.

Richard Crable and Ginger Young were elected to the board of directors.

STANDING committees named by Miss Walters were: Larry Plum, program; Beth Riekey, membership; John Butler, public relations; Douglas Dunkle, house; and Cynthia Thompson, publications.

The board of directors will meet this summer to plan a program for next year's first semester.

Robert Ransom, club adviser, directed the meeting.

Wilson Awarded Ag Scholarship

Nathan Wilson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Wells Wilson, Route 1, has been awarded the $300 Glenn W. McCuen scholarship in agricultural engineering at Ohio State University, it was announced by Robert E. Stewart, professor and chairman of the Department of Agricultural Engineering.

Wilson was also installed as the 1962-63 president of the student branch of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers at a banquet held last week in the Ohio Union on the campus.

Following the close of the spring quarter, he will leave for La Porte, Indiana, where he has accepted employment with the Allis Chalmers Company for the summer months.

Rotarians Schedule Panel Discussion

A panel discussion is scheduled for Thursday's noon luncheon meeting at the BPO Elks.

The topic will be "Religion in Circleville."

Park Board Eyes New Shelterhouse

Construction of a new shelterhouse is currently under study by members of Circleville's Ted Lewis Park Board.

Mapping plans for the project are Chairman Edgar Webb, J. Ludwig Haacker and Jack McGuire. McGuire recently was appointed to the Park Board post by Mayor Richard Penn.

According to Webb, present plans call for the use of $1,000 donated by Ted Lewis about two years ago. Lewis specifically requested that the money be used for the erection of a permanent structure at the park.

Registration Program Held At Logan Elm

All eighth grade pupils in the Logan Elm schools are participating in an orientation and registration program at the high school it was announced by Carl S. Burger, superintendent of the district.

Pupils are visiting the high school and making tours of the building where they have an opportunity to visit classrooms, meet teachers and study the high school program with the high school principal in charge.

Each student receives a brochure, course selection for high school, and a floor plan of the new building. All pupils will receive high school information pertaining to the curriculum, time schedules and extra curricular activities.

Before the completion of this program each eighth grader will make out his schedule for the 1962-63 school year.

There are a total of 100 pupils enrolled in the three eighth grades of the district. The high school enrollment for the 1962-63 term will be about 300 pupils according to Burger.

Historians Supervise Excavation in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Historians took over supervision of digging at a building construction site today after workmen turned up parts of a British fort built in 1779.

Wooden structures found by diggers at a new bank site were authenticated Monday as parts of Fort Lernout, built on what is now Fort and Washington, a busy intersection in the city's heart.

The Detroit Bank and Trust Co. and building contractor Sam Minskoff invited historians to excavate further for more relics.

Armed Forces Day Set for May 19-20 At Lockbourne AFB

All military units in the Columbus area will join forces to present the gala Armed Forces Day program which Lockbourne Air Force Base hosts May 19 and 20.

Sponsored by the Columbus Armed Forces Community Relations Council, the two-day event climaxes Armed Forces Week activities which provide civilians a unique opportunity to see their military in action.

Gates open at Lockbourne at 10 a. m. Saturday and 1 p. m. Sunday. Flying programs featuring skydivers, heavy equipment drops, a mass parachute jump and the latest supersonic aircraft begin at 10:30 a. m. and 2 p. m. Saturday. Another flying show will be held Sunday afternoon.

Included in the aerial performances will be the F-106 interceptor which set a world speed record of over 1,500 miles per hour; a Lockbourne E-47 making a rocket-assisted take off; and the F-101 "Voodoo" supersonic interceptor.

Spectators can board many of the nation's first line aircraft which will be on static display. Other exhibitions include sentry dog and judo demonstrations plus such Army and Navy equipment as the Pershing missile and a display depicting the U.S.S. Columbus, newest guided missile cruiser.

Business Briefs

It was announced today by Leroy Slusser, manager of the local office of the Prudential Insurance Co., that the local office had been awarded the Presidential Citation by Prudential President, Louis R. Menagh.

This award is given annually to the top offices in the United States and Canada on the overall basis of service to policyholders. The presentation was made by a plaque on which was inscribed all of the names of the local agents.

The Agents who serve this area through the local office at 214 S. Court St. are Richard Davis, Franklin Gilt, Roscoe Warren, Charles Sabine, Theodore Culp and Paul O'Day.

Logan Elm Operating Levy Gains Passage in Primary

The proposed two mill tax levy for the Logan Elm School District carried in yesterday's election by a 423-325 vote. The levy will be in effect for five years.

The levy carried in all but two of the eight precincts in the district. Saltcreek South and Tarlton were the only voting stations that failed to carry the issue. Saltcreek South defeated the issue by 15 votes and Tarlton won it by nine. The count was 29-54 in Saltcreek South and 42-51 in Tarlton.

Washington south carried the levy by the largest majority, 69-27, but in the northern precinct it went over by only a six vote margin, 52-46.

Pickaway carried the issue strong in both polling places. In the eastern precinct the vote was 85-59 and in the west it was 65-33. Saltcreek North carried 62-53.

REVENUE from the levy will be used for current operating expenses, to provide funds to purchase new school buses and employ additional elementary teachers and to make needed repairs on the elementary buildings in the district.

New Drama Club Is Organized At High School

An initial meeting of a new drama club, "Circleville Curtain Callers", was conducted in the high school auditorium yesterday. Fifty students participated.

Main purpose of this new organization is to co-ordinate speech and dramatics activities in high school.

Two main topics of business were discussed, a constitution was adopted and new officers were elected. Named were Carolyn Walters, president; Larry Plum, vice president; Sheryl Wood, secretary; and James R. Stewart, treasurer.

Richard Crable and Ginger Young were elected to the board of directors.

STANDING committees named by Miss Walters were: Larry Plum, program; Beth Rickey, membership; John Butler, public relations; Douglas Dunkle, house; and Cynthia Thompson, publications.

The board of directors will meet this summer to plan a program for next year's first semester.

Robert Ransom, club adviser, directed the meeting.

Wilson Awarded Ag Scholarship

Nathan Wilson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Wells Wilson, Route 1, has been awarded the $300 Glenn W. McCuen scholarship in agricultural engineering at Ohio State University, it was announced by Robert E. Stewart, professor and chairman of the Department of Agricultural Engineering.

Wilson was also installed as the 1962-63 president of the student branch of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers at a banquet held last week in the Ohio Union on the campus.

Following the close of the spring quarter, he will leave for La Porte, Indiana, where he has accepted employment with the Allis Chalmers Company for the summer months.

Rotarians Schedule Panel Discussion

A panel discussion is scheduled for Thursday's noon luncheon meeting at the BPO Elks.

The topic will be "Religion in Circleville."

Park Board Eyes New Shelterhouse

Construction of a new shelterhouse is currently under study by members of Circleville's Ted Lewis Park Board.

Mapping plans for the project are Chairman Edgar Webb, J. Ludwig Haecker and Jack McGuire. McGuire recently was appointed to the Park Board post by Mayor Richard Penn.

According to Webb, present

Registration Program Held At Logan Elm

All eighth grade pupils in the Logan Elm schools are participating in an orientation and registration program at the high school, it was announced by Carl S. Burger, superintendent of the district.

Pupils are visiting the high school and making tours of the building where they have an opportunity to visit classrooms, meet teachers and study the high school program with the high school principal in charge.

Each student receives a brochure, course selection for high school, and a floor plan of the new building. All pupils will receive high school information pertaining to the curriculum, time schedules and extra curricular activities.

Before the completion of this program each eighth grader will make out his schedule for the 1962-63 school year.

There are a total of 100 pupils enrolled in the three eighth grades of the district. The high school enrollment for the 1962-63 term will be about 300 pupils according to Burger.

Historians Supervise Excavation in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Historians took over supervision of digging at a building construction site today after workmen turned up parts of a British fort built in 1779.

Wooden structures found by diggers at a new bank site were authenticated Monday as parts of Fort Lernout, built on what is now Fort and Washington, a busy intersection in the city's heart.

The Detroit Bank and Trust Co. and building contractor Sam Minskoff invited historians to excavate further for more relics.

plans call for the use of $1,000 donated by Ted Lewis about two years ago. Lewis specifically requested that the money be used for the erection of a permanent structure at the park.

Webb said there currently is about $1,317 in the Ted Lewis Park fund, including the money donated by the famed Circleville musician.

THE NECESSITY for a new shelterhouse stems from the heavy use of the current structure at the park. Webb said the building is usually reserved about a year ahead for picnics and other outing activities.

In other business, it was announced that the Park Board has committed about $400 to assist in the construction of three outdoor basketball courts at Circleville schools.

Webb said the park's tennis courts are in need of maintenance work. This will include new wire for backstops, resetting of posts and other improvements.

Routine general maintenance for other park facilities is also planned.

Webb said requests for shelterhouse reservations may be made with Mrs. Martha Wilson at the Service Director's office. The phone number is GR 4-2965 from 9 to 5 Monday through Friday.

FOP Groups Plan Special Show in June

Circleville's Fraternal Order of Police and Police Associates currently are outlining plans to bring a new form of entertainment to Circleville.

Scheduled to appear here June 9 are several noted personalities from the Grand Ole Opry, direct from Nashville, Tenn. The nationally famous performers will conduct their show at the Circleville High School gymnasium.

According to FOP officials, the entertainers will present two performances, one at 7 p. m. and the other at 9:30.

The group scheduled here will include Johnny and Jack, Kitty Wells, the Duke of Paducah, Bobby Helm, Joe Edwards, Bob Perry and others.

Police Sgt. Leroy Hawks said advance sale tickets will be available soon.

Armed Forces Day Set for May 19-20 At Lockbourne AFB

All military units in the Columbus area will join forces to present the gala Armed Forces Day program which Lockbourne Air Force Base hosts May 19 and 20.

Sponsored by the Columbus Armed Forces Community Relations Council, the two-day event climaxes Armed Forces Week activities which provide civilians a unique opportunity to see their military in action.

Gates open at Lockbourne at 10 a. m. Saturday and 1 p. m. Sunday. Flying programs featuring skydivers, heavy equipment drops, a mass parachute jump and the latest supersonic aircraft begin at 10:30 a. m. and 2 p. m. Saturday. Another flying show will be held Sunday afternoon.

Included in the aerial performances will be the F-106 interceptor which set a world speed record of over 1,500 miles per hour; a Lockbourne E-47 making a rocket-assisted take off; and the F-101 "Voodoo" supersonic interceptor.

Spectators can board many of the nation's first - line aircraft which will be on static display. Other exhibitions include sentry dog and judo demonstrations plus such Army and Navy equipment as the Pershing missile and a display depicting the U.S.S. Columbus, newest guided missile cruiser.

Logan Elm Operating Levy Gains Passage in Primary

The proposed two mill tax levy for the Logan Elm School District carried in yesterday's election by a 423-325 vote. The levy will be in effect for five years.

The levy carried in all but two of the eight precincts in the district. Saltcreek South and Tarlton were the only voting stations that failed to carry the issue. Saltcreek South defeated the issue by 15 votes and Tarlton downed it by nine. The count was 39-54 in Saltcreek South and 42-51 in Tarlton.

Washington south carried the levy by the largest majority, 69-27, but in the northern precinct it went over by only a six vote margin, 52-46.

Pickaway carried the issue strong in both polling places. In the eastern precinct the vote was 85-59 and in the west it was 65-33. Saltcreek North carried 62-53.

REVENUE from the levy will be used for current operating expenses, to provide funds to purchase new school buses and employ additional elementary teachers and to make needed repairs on the elementary buildings in the district.

Carl Burger, Logan Elm District superintendent, said none of the planned expenditures would go into effect until 1963, when revenue from the levy would be available. It will not appear on the tax duplicate until January, 1963.

The issue was defeated in three other elections before it finally passed yesterday. It first appeared on the ballot in the November election of 1960. It was brought up in a special election the same year and again at the regular election last year.

Akron Boy Tells Only Half of Story

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Gary J. Donohoe, 14, who left home April telling his parents he was going fishing, was true to his word. However, he didn't say he was going deep-sea fishing.

A search of fishing areas was conducted after Gary and a friend, Raymond Blackerby Jr.,

14, disappeared two weeks ago. At first it was feared the two might be drowned. Akron authorities were notified Monday night that young Donohoe had been located at Miami, Fla., where he was doing part-time work at a motel and going deep sea fishing in his spare time.
